

2026 ASOR ANNUAL MEETING ACADEMIC SCHEDULE

Chicago, November 18-21, 2026

Sessions, presentations, times, and locations are subject to change.

Please check the Program Addendum posted at the ASOR help desk or view the online program for the latest schedule.

ACADEMIC PROGRAM

Times and dates are subject to change.

Updated: October 2, 2026

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 2026

- 12:00–8:30pm (CST) ASOR Registration Tables and Help Desk Open (Normandie Lounge)
The ASOR registration tables and help desk will be open for longer hours on Wednesday to avoid crowding before the Plenary Address. Please stop by to pick up your name badge any time between 2:00pm to 8:30pm.
- 7:00–8:30pm (CST) Welcome to the Annual Meeting and Plenary Address (Grand Ballroom)
Lapis, Clay, Copper, Water: Presenting Ancient West Asian Art at The Met
Dr. Kim Benzel | Curator in Charge, The Metropolitan Museum of Art

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 2026

8:15–10:20am (CST)

SESSION BLOCK 1

LOCATION

|     |                                                                              |                  |
|-----|------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------|
| 1A. | Jerusalem and the Archaeology of a Sacred City I                             | Continental A    |
| 1B. | Archaeology of Mesopotamia I                                                 | Continental B    |
| 1C. | Interdisciplinary Approaches to Seals, Sealing Practices, and Administration | Continental C    |
| 1D. | Ancient Climate and Environmental Archaeology                                | Waldorf          |
| 1E. | Archaeology of the Southern Levant I                                         | Marquette        |
| 1F. | Bring in the Crowds (Workshop)                                               | Williford A      |
| 1G. | Digital Archaeology and History I                                            | Williford B      |
| 1H. | Archaeology of Anatolia I                                                    | Williford C      |
| 1I. | Violence in the Ancient Near East and Hebrew Bible I                         | Astoria          |
| 1J. | Archaeology of Egypt I                                                       | Private Dining 2 |

10:40am–12:45pm (CST)

SESSION BLOCK 2

LOCATION

|     |                                                                                                             |                  |
|-----|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------|
| 2A. | Jerusalem and the Archaeology of a Sacred City II                                                           | Continental A    |
| 2B. | Archaeology of Mesopotamia II                                                                               | Continental B    |
| 2C. | How to Prepare for When Disaster Strikes (Workshop)                                                         | Continental C    |
| 2D. | Publishing Scholarship of the Ancient World in the Mid 21st Century (Workshop)                              | Waldorf          |
| 2E. | Archaeology of the Southern Levant II                                                                       | Marquette        |
| 2F. | The Field Still Is Not Safe: Confronting Cultures of Harassment on Archaeological Field Projects (Workshop) | Williford A      |
| 2G. | Digital Archaeology and History II                                                                          | Williford B      |
| 2H. | Archaeology of Anatolia II                                                                                  | Williford C      |
| 2I. | Violence in the Ancient Near East and Hebrew Bible II                                                       | Astoria          |
| 2J. | Archaeology of Egypt II                                                                                     | Private Dining 2 |

Program Committee Note on Research from Occupied Territory

This year, sessions and workshops that include presentations drawing on material from occupied territory and its contiguous waters as defined by customary international law carry a Program Committee note confirming alignment with ASOR's Policy on Professional Conduct, Section III.E.7. Including these notes in the program supports ASOR members in understanding the basis for the inclusion of research from occupied territory in the Annual Meeting. The practice aligns with ASOR Values, recently adopted by the Board of Trustees—particularly the values of stewardship (supporting the responsible management, preservation, and protection of cultural heritage) and transparency (communicating openly with stakeholders across the scholarly and public landscape).

12:45–2:00pm (CST) Early Career Scholars Brown Bag Lunch and Panel (Boulevard C)

12:45–2:00pm (CST) Roundtable Discussions (Grand Ballroom) - View list here and sign-up in advance

2:00–4:05pm (CST)

SESSION BLOCK 3

LOCATION

|     |                                                                                                        |                  |
|-----|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------|
| 3A. | Urbanism and Politics in the Bronze and Iron Age Levant I                                              | Continental A    |
| 3B. | The Archaeology of the Kurdistan Region of Iraq I                                                      | Continental B    |
| 3C. | Tell en-Naşbeh at 100 Years: Past, Present, and Future I                                               | Continental C    |
| 3D. | Interconnectivity and Exchange with Northeast Africa I                                                 | Waldorf          |
| 3E. | The Archaeology of the Kingdom of Judah                                                                | Marquette        |
| 3F. | Gender in the Ancient Near East I                                                                      | Williford A      |
| 3G. | New Approaches to Ancient Animals I                                                                    | Williford B      |
| 3H. | Archaeology of Anatolia III                                                                            | Williford C      |
| 3I. | Violence in the Ancient Near East and Hebrew Bible III                                                 | Astoria          |
| 3J. | Negotiating Elites: Strategies of Elite Practices and Consumption as Reactions to Political Dynamics I | Private Dining 2 |

4:25–6:30pm (CST)

SESSION BLOCK 4

LOCATION

|     |                                                                                                        |                  |
|-----|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------|
| 4A. | Urbanism and Politics in the Bronze and Iron Age Levant II                                             | Continental A    |
| 4B. | The Archaeology of the Kurdistan Region of Iraq II                                                     | Continental B    |
| 4C. | Tell en-Naşbeh at 100 Years: Past, Present, and Future II                                              | Continental C    |
| 4D. | Interconnectivity and Exchange with Northeast Africa II                                                | Waldorf          |
| 4E. | Archaeology of the Southern Levant III: Papers in Honor of Yosef Garfinkel                             | Marquette        |
| 4F. | Gender in the Ancient Near East II                                                                     | Williford A      |
| 4G. | New Approaches to Ancient Animals II                                                                   | Williford B      |
| 4H. | The Medieval Village (Workshop)                                                                        | Williford C      |
| 4I. | Petra and the Kingdom & Influences of the Nabataeans                                                   | Astoria          |
| 4J. | Negotiating Elites: Strategies of Elite Practices and Consumption as Reactions to Political Dynamics I | Private Dining 2 |
| 4K. | Archaeology of Religion in the Levant during the Second and First Millennia BCE I                      | Boulevard        |

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 2026

8:15–10:20am (CST)

SESSION BLOCK 5

LOCATION

|     |                                                                                                                 |                  |
|-----|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------|
| 5A. | The Age of Transitions: Imperial Successions and Local Transformations in the First Millennium BCE I            | Continental A    |
| 5B. | Cultural Heritage: Preservation, Presentation, and Management I                                                 | Continental B    |
| 5C. | Archaeology of Israel I                                                                                         | Continental C    |
| 5D. | Archaeology and Biblical Studies I                                                                              | Waldorf          |
| 5E. | Archaeology of the Near East: The Classical Periods                                                             | Marquette        |
| 5F. | Dwelling in Past: Scales of Settlement, Time, and Society in Anatolia I                                         | Williford A      |
| 5G. | Archaeology of Rural Communities: Landscape Approaches I                                                        | Williford B      |
| 5H. | Re-imagining the Final Excavation Report: Exploring New Approaches to Publishing Archaeological Data (Workshop) | Williford C      |
| 5I. | Archaeologies of Memory                                                                                         | Astoria          |
| 5J. | Archaeology of Jordan I                                                                                         | Private Dining 2 |

10:40am–12:45pm (CST)*SESSION BLOCK 6*LOCATION

|     |                                                                                                       |                  |
|-----|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------|
| 6A. | The Age of Transitions: Imperial Successions and Local Transformations in the First Millennium BCE II | Continental A    |
| 6B. | Cultural Heritage: Preservation, Presentation, and Management II                                      | Continental B    |
| 6C. | Archaeology of Israel II                                                                              | Continental C    |
| 6D. | Archaeology and Biblical Studies II                                                                   | Waldorf          |
| 6E. | Computational Methods and Simulations in the Near Eastern Archaeology                                 | Marquette        |
| 6F. | Flipping the Script: Museum Reinterpretations in Practice (Workshop)                                  | Williford A      |
| 6G. | Archaeology of Rural Communities: Landscape Approaches II                                             | Williford B      |
| 6H. | Archaeology of Syria                                                                                  | Williford C      |
| 6I. | Theoretical and Anthropological Approaches to the Near East                                           | Astoria          |
| 6J. | Archaeology of Jordan II                                                                              | Private Dining 2 |

12:45–2:00pm (CST)

ASOR Members' Meeting (Waldorf)

2:00–4:05pm (CST)*SESSION BLOCK 7*LOCATION

|     |                                                                          |                  |
|-----|--------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------|
| 7A. | Urbanism and Politics in the Bronze and Iron Age Levant III              | Continental A    |
| 7B. | Cultural Heritage: Preservation, Presentation, and Management III        | Continental B    |
| 7C. | Archaeology of Israel III                                                | Continental C    |
| 7D. | Archaeology of Islamic Society I                                         | Waldorf          |
| 7E. | Art Historical Approaches to the Near East I                             | Marquette        |
| 7F. | Dwelling in Past: Scales of Settlement, Time, and Society in Anatolia II | Williford A      |
| 7G. | Ancient Inscriptions I                                                   | Williford B      |
| 7H. | The Region of Aqaba in La Longue Durée (Workshop)                        | Williford C      |
| 7I. | Archaeology of Lebanon                                                   | Astoria          |
| 7J. | Archaeology of Cyprus I                                                  | Private Dining 2 |

4:25–6:30pm (CST)*SESSION BLOCK 8*LOCATION

|     |                                                                                  |                  |
|-----|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------|
| 8A. | Recent Work in the Archaeological Sciences                                       | Continental A    |
| 8B. | Gardens of the Mediterranean, the Ancient Near East, and Beyond                  | Continental B    |
| 8C. | Use and Reuse of Tombs in the Theban Necropolis                                  | Continental C    |
| 8D. | Archaeology of Islamic Society II                                                | Waldorf          |
| 8E. | Art Historical Approaches to the Near East II                                    | Marquette        |
| 8F. | Dwelling in Past: Scales of Settlement, Time, and Society in Anatolia III        | Williford A      |
| 8G. | Ancient Inscriptions II                                                          | Williford B      |
| 8H. | The Sampling Trilemma: Balancing Conservation, Curation, and Research (Workshop) | Williford C      |
| 8I. | History of Archaeology I                                                         | Astoria          |
| 8J. | Archaeology of Cyprus II                                                         | Private Dining 2 |

8:00-10:00pm (CST)

Early Career Scholars' Reception (720 South Bar, Lobby Level)

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 2026

8:15–10:20am (CST)

SESSION BLOCK 9

LOCATION

|     |                                                                   |               |
|-----|-------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------|
| 9A. | Africa in the Ancient World I                                     | Continental A |
| 9B. | Archaeology of Arabia I                                           | Continental B |
| 9C. | The LCP Handbook Series: Eastern Sigillata A (ESA)                | Continental C |
| 9D. | Intangible Cultural Heritage: Bridging the Past and the Present I | Waldorf       |
| 9E. | Archaeology of the Near East: Bronze and Iron Ages I              | Marquette     |
| 9F. | Approaches to Dress and the Body                                  | Williford A   |
| 9G. | Ancient Inscriptions III                                          | Williford B   |
| 9H. | Towards a Working Ancient Economy I                               | Williford C   |
| 9I. | History of Archaeology II                                         | Astoria       |

10:40am–12:45pm (CST)

SESSION BLOCK 10

LOCATION

|      |                                                                                   |               |
|------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------|
| 10A. | Africa in the Ancient World II                                                    | Continental A |
| 10B. | Archaeology of Arabia II                                                          | Continental B |
| 10C. | Ancient Mesopotamia – A Social History. Methods for Reconstructing Lived Worlds I | Continental C |
| 10D. | Intangible Cultural Heritage: Bridging the Past and the Present II                | Waldorf       |
| 10E. | Archaeology of the Near East: Bronze and Iron Ages II                             | Marquette     |
| 10F. | What's Up With That?: Museum Objects that Defy Interpretation (Workshop)          | Williford A   |
| 10G. | Ancient Languages and Linguistics I                                               | Williford B   |
| 10H. | Towards a Working Ancient Economy II                                              | Williford C   |
| 10I. | Archaeology of the Black Sea and the Caucasus                                     | Astoria       |

12:45–2:00pm (CST)

ASOR Poster Session (Grand Ballroom Foyer)

2:00–4:05pm (CST)

SESSION BLOCK 11

LOCATION

|      |                                                                                    |               |
|------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------|
| 11A. | Africa in the Ancient World III                                                    | Continental A |
| 11B. | Archaeology of Iran                                                                | Continental B |
| 11C. | Ancient Mesopotamia – A Social History. Methods for Reconstructing Lived Worlds II | Continental C |
| 11D. | Provenance and Middle Eastern Collections I of Memory I                            | Waldorf       |
| 11E. | The Archaeology of the Lands of Alalakh I                                          | Marquette     |
| 11F. | Teaching with The Ancient Near East Today (Workshop)                               | Williford A   |
| 11G. | Ancient Languages and Linguistics II                                               | Williford B   |
| 11H. | Prehistoric Archaeology I                                                          | Williford C   |
| 11I. | Archaeology of Religion in the Levant during the Second and First Millennia BCE II | Astoria       |

4:25–6:30pm (CST)

SESSION BLOCK 12

LOCATION

|      |                                                                                     |               |
|------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------|
| 12A. | Archaeology and History of Feasting and Foodways                                    | Continental A |
| 12B. | Art, Archaeology, and History of Central Asia                                       | Continental B |
| 12C. | Ancient Mesopotamia – A Social History. Methods for Reconstructing Lived Worlds III | Continental C |
| 12D. | Provenance and Middle Eastern Collections II                                        | Waldorf       |
| 12E. | The Archaeology of the Lands of Alalakh II                                          | Marquette     |
| 12F. | Archaeology of the Late Antique and Byzantine Near East                             | Williford A   |
| 12G. | Ancient Languages and Linguistics III                                               | Williford B   |
| 12H. | Prehistoric Archaeology II                                                          | Williford C   |

Institute for the Study of Ancient Cultures (ISAC) Museum Reception (Times will be announced soon)

After the sessions end on Saturday night, the Institute for the Study of Ancient Cultures (ISAC) Museum will host a reception for ASOR attendees—two time options are being offered to accommodate as many people as possible. Tickets are complimentary for ASOR attendees.

ACADEMIC PROGRAM

Times and dates are subject to change.

Updated: October 2, 2026

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 2026

- 12:00–8:30pm (CST) ASOR Registration Tables and Help Desk Open (Normandie Lounge)
The ASOR registration tables and help desk will be open for longer hours on Wednesday to avoid crowding before the Plenary Address. Please stop by to pick up your name badge any time between 2:00pm to 8:30pm
- 7:00–8:30pm (CST) Plenary Address (Grand Ballroom)
Lapis, Clay, Copper, Water: Presenting Ancient West Asian Art at The Met
Dr. Kim Benzel | Curator in Charge, The Metropolitan Museum of Art

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 2026

- 8:15–10:20am (CST) 1A. Jerusalem and the Archaeology of a Sacred City I (Continental A) ****
Chair(s): Yuval Gadot, Tel-Aviv University; Yiftah Shalev, Israel Antiquities Authority
- 8:15–8:40am Bathing Culture in Jerusalem – New Archaeological Evidence for Bathhouses Development West of the Temple Mount, from the Roman to the Early Islamic Periods
Ari Levy (Israel Antiquities Authority)
- 8:40–9:00am Archaeology in Complex Contexts: Methodological Reflections from the Excavations at the Holy Sepulchre in Jerusalem
Francesca Romana Stasolla (University of Roma Sapienza)
- 9:05–9:30am "Do good in your good pleasure unto Zion; build the walls of Jerusalem" (Psalm 51:20). Dating the Byzantine Wall of Jerusalem: A Reassessment of the "Eudocia Wall"
Yehel Zelinger (Israel Antiquities Authority)
- 9:30–9:55am Fortifications and Symbols: The Discovery of Jerusalem's Northern Moat and the In-Situ Fatimid-Period "Hamsa" Carving
Zubair A. Adawi (Israel Antiquities Authority)
- 9:55–10:20am From Abundance to Abandonment: When and Why did Birkat al-Hamra Go Out of Use?
Itamar Berko (Israel Antiquity Authority), Nahshon Szanton (Israel Antiquity Authority), Michael Chernin (Israel Antiquity Authority)
- 8:15–10:20am (CST) 1B. Archaeology of Mesopotamia I (Continental B)
Chair(s): Lucas Proctor, J.W. Goethe University Frankfurt; Glynnis Maynard, Cambridge University
- 8:15–8:40am Tracing Transformation: Network and Multivariate Analyses of Chalcolithic Households in Greater Mesopotamia
Khaled Abu Javyab (University of Toronto), Elizabeth Gibbon (University of Toronto), Lisa Wolff (University of Toronto), Lianna Sternklar (University of Toronto), Deniz Dernek (University of Toronto), Koushan Amir-Khosravi (University of Toronto), Emmett Kohl McPherson (University of Toronto), Rowan Berrian (University of Toronto), Aly El Hemasy (University of Toronto), Brittany Mayers (University of Toronto)
- 8:40–9:05am The City of Adab (Bismaya): Reassessing the Site's History and Architecture Based on the Results of the Iraqi Excavations
Mustafa Hasan (State Board of Antiquities and Heritage (SBAH)-Iraq)
- 9:05–9:30am Dining on the Edge: Foodways in 7th Century BCE Nippur, Iraq
Augusta McMahon (University of Chicago, ISAC), Erin Braner (University of Chicago)

* Presentations in this session/workshop that draw on material from occupied territory and its contiguous waters as defined by customary international law have been reviewed by the Program Committee, in consultation with the presenters, to ensure alignment with ASOR's Policy on Professional Conduct, Section III.E.7. Further documentation can be provided by the Program Committee upon request (pc.chairs@asor.org).

|                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
|-----------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 9:30-9:55am           | Smart Management of Cultural Heritage in Iraq: Integrating Advanced Technologies for Digital Documentation and Archaeological Site PreservationHarith Jasim (Salah al-Din Museum)*Virtual                                                                                                                                |
| 9:55-10:20am          | The Tell-Tale Hearth: Intramural Burials of Middle Bronze Age MesopotamiaVictoria A. Wilson (Johns Hopkins University)                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| 8:15-10:20am(CST) | 1C. Interdisciplinary Approaches to Seals, Sealing Practices, and Administration (Continental C)Chair(s): Pinar Durgun, The Morgan Library and Museum                                                                                                                                                                               |
| 8:15-8:40am           | Artificial Stones, Authentic Meanings: Rethinking Our Value Judgements Around Materials of SealsPinar Durgun (The Morgan Library and Museum), Ellen Purdy (The Metropolitan Museum of Art), Rebecca Pollak (The Morgan Library and Museum)                                                                                   |
| 8:40-9:05am           | Cult, Lack of Cult, and the Numinous Worldview in the Persepolis Fortification ArchiveNatalie DeGeeter (University of Colorado-Boulder)                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| 9:05-9:30am           | Luxury through Practice: Social Memory in the Iron Age Seals of AchzivErin Anderson (University of Chicago)                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| 9:30-9:55am           | A Seleucian Society: A Reassessment of the Sealings at the Kelsey Museum of Archaeology and Their Socioeconomic ContextEzequiel Martin Parra (University of Michigan)                                                                                                                                                        |
| 9:55-10:20am          | Getting Sirius about Interpreting SealsJoAnn Scurlock (Elmhurst College (retired))                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| 8:15-10:20am(CST) | 1D. Ancient Climate and Environmental Archaeology (Waldorf)Chair(s): Brita Lorentzen, University of Georgia; Kathleen Forste, Brown University                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| 8:15-8:40am           | Reconstructing Bronze Age Cultivation Strategies in the Amuq Valley through Functional Weed EcologyEbrar Sinmez (Middle East Technical University)*Virtual                                                                                                                                                               |
| 8:40-9:05am           | Environmental Insights from Phytolith-Rich Layers at Tell es-Safi/GathMarc Ramrekha (Rutgers University), Dan Cabanes (Rutgers University), Elisabetta Boaretto (Weizmann Institute of Science), Aren M. Maeir (Bar-Ilan University)*Virtual                                                                             |
| 9:05-9:30am           | The Industrial Birth of AthensNikolas Lund (Aristotle University of Thessaloniki)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| 9:30-9:55am           | New Insights into the Plant Economy at Islamic Tall HisbanKathleen M. Forste (Brown University)                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| 9:55-10:20am          | Multi-Scalar Environmental Histories from Dendrochronology of Underwater Heritage in Cyprus and IsraelBrita Lorentzen (University of Georgia)                                                                                                                                                                                |
| 8:15-10:20am(CST) | 1E. Archaeology of the Southern Levant I (Marquette)Chair(s): Sarah Richardson, North Carolina State University                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| 8:15-8:40am           | Lithic Exchange and Provisioning in the Early Bronze Age Southern Levant: A Perspective from Tell es-Safi/Gath, IsraelJeremy A. Beller (University of Bergen), Haskel J. Greenfield (University of Manitoba), Mostafa Fayek (University of Manitoba), Shira Albaz (Bar-Ilan University), Aren M. Maeir (Bar-Ilan University) |
| 8:40-9:05am           | A Grave Matter: Philistine Burial Practices at Tell es-Safi/GathShani R. Guterman (Bar-Ilan University), Shira Albaz (Bar-Ilan University), Aren M. Maeir (Bar-Ilan University)                                                                                                                                              |
| 9:05-9:30am           | Crucibles, Tuyères, and 'Phoenician-ness': A Search for Identity through Technological TraditionAlex King (Hebrew University of Jerusalem)                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| 9:30-9:55am           | Royal Egyptian Iconography in the Late Bronze Southern Levant: The Case of the UraeusJohn Will Rice (Leipzig University)                                                                                                                                                                                                     |

|                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
|--------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 9:55–10:20am       | Assessing Animal Management Within Cycles of Urbanism in the Southern Levant through Zooarchaeology and Isotopic AnalysesElizabeth R. Arnold (Grand Valley State University), Haskel J. Greenfield (University of Manitoba), Aren M. Maeir (Bar-Ilan University)                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| 8:15–10:20am (CST) | 1F. Bring in the Crowds (Workshop) (Williford A) *Chair(s): Emily Miller Bonney, California State University Fullerton; Leann Pace, Wake Forest University                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| 8:15–8:25am        | The Role of Crowds in the Ancient Egyptian Opet FestivalBrent Davis (University of Melbourne)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| 8:25–8:35am        | Where's the Party? Proto-Literate Glyptic and Commensal Crowds in Ancient Egypt and MesopotamiaSarah J. Scott (Wagner College)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| 8:35–8:45am        | The Incredible Invisible Public in AssyriaChristopher W. Jones (Union University)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| 8:45–8:55am        | Gathering the Living for the Dead: How Crowds Crafted Judahite EthnicityKristine S. Garroway (Hebrew Union College)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| 8:55–9:05am        | Crowd Control at Ancient Beer ShevaFredric R. Brandfon (Independent Scholar)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| 9:05–9:15am        | Empty Spaces to Crowded Places: Repopulating the approach to the Second TempleLeann C. Pace (Wake Forest University)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| 9:15–9:25am        | This land is your land, and this land is my land? Crowd Control, Order, and Ownership in the Code of Hammurabi, Freemasonry and the Social Contract Theory of John LockeLouise A. Hitchcock (Independent Researcher)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| 9:25–10:20am       | Discussion                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| 8:15–10:20am (CST) | 1G. Digital Archaeology and History I (Williford B)Chair(s): Leigh Anne Lieberman, Princeton University; Matthew Howland, Wichita State University                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| 8:15–8:40am        | AI-Assisted Detection of Archaeological Sites in Historical Satellite Imagery: Case Studies in the Northern Fertile CrescentJesse Casana (Dartmouth College), Casey Shi (Dartmouth College)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| 8:40–9:05am        | A Tale of Two Valleys: A Comparative Landscape Archaeology and Vernacular Architecture Study of the Bamiyan and the Ziz River Valleys Using Remote SensingPablo Gutierrez de Leon (Harvard University), Fernando Casamayor Molina (Harvard University), Shireen Shah (Harvard University)                                                                                                                                                                               |
| 9:05–9:30am        | GIS Approaches to Communication and Inter-Urban Connectivity Across 9th Century Byzantine AnatoliaAnnalise P. Whalen (University of Central Florida)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| 9:30–9:55am        | Integrating GIS-based modelling and Traceological Analysis for the Study of Quarry Cuts on Gareb Hill (Basilica of the Holy Sepulchre, Jerusalem)Giulia Previti (Sapienza University of Rome), Federica Vacatello (Sapienza University of Rome)                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| 9:55–10:20am       | Settlement and Connectivity: Increasing Territorialization in the Middle Bronze Age in South Central AnatoliaAnna Berlekamp (University of Chicago)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| 8:15–10:20am (CST) | 1H. Archaeology of Anatolia I (Williford C)Chair(s): Nancy Amelia Highcock, Ashmolean Museum, University of Oxford; Oya Topçuoğlu, Northwestern University                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| 8:15–8:40am        | The 2026 Season of the Kerkenes ProjectScott Branting (University of Central Florida), Dominique Langis-Barsetti (University of Laval), Joseph W. Lehner (University of Sydney), Sevil Baltalı Tırpan (Istanbul Technical University), Gökçe Bike Yazıcıoğlu (Simon Fraser University), Nilüfer Baturayoglu Yöney (University of Central Florida), Soran Avcı (Kerkenes Project), Sarah R. Graff (Arizona State University), Laurien Folkerts (University of Groningen) |
| 8:40–9:05am        | Bookends: The Chalcolithic and Byzantine Periods at Çadır HöyükSharon R. R. Steadman (State University of New York, Cortland), Burcu Yıldırım (Leiden University), Deniz Erdem (Middle East Technical University), Gregory McMahon (University of New Hampshire)                                                                                                                                                                                                        |

* Presentations in this session/workshop that draw on material from occupied territory and its contiguous waters as defined by customary international law have been reviewed by the Program Committee, in consultation with the presenters, to ensure alignment with ASOR's Policy on Professional Conduct, Section III.E.7. Further documentation can be provided by the Program Committee upon request (pc.chairs@asor.org).

|                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
|---------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 9:05-9:30am                     | Early Holocene Riverine and Deltaic Adaptations: The Case of the Neolithic Settlement at Çatalhöyük and the Çarşamba River CatchmentArkadiusz Marciniak (University in Poznan)                                                                                             |
| 9:30-9:55am                     | Renewed Excavations at Konya Karahöyük: Results from the First Five Seasons (2022–2026)Gonca D. Dardeniz (Istanbul University)                                                                                                                                             |
| 9:55-10:20am                    | The Türkmen-Karahöyük Archaeological Project: Results of the 2026 Field SeasonJames F. Osborne (University of Chicago), Michele Rüzgar Massa (Bilkent University), Hüseyin Erpehlivan (Bilkent University)                                                   |
| 8:15–10:20am(CST)    | 1I. Violence in the Ancient Near East and Hebrew Bible I (Astoria)Chair(s): Anthony SooHoo , Pontifical Biblical Institute (Rome); Megan Cifarelli , Manhattanville College                                                                                  |
| 8:15-8:40am                     | Mythico-Solar Violence and the Creation of Sovereignty: Reconsidering the Egyptian Cannibal SpellKatja Goebis (University of Toronto)                                                                                                                                      |
| 8:40-9:05am                     | When is Life Grievable? War and Mourning in Ancient EgyptUros Matic (University of Graz)                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| 9:05-9:30am                     | “From east to west, Enlil permitted him no rival”: Divine Justification for Wars in Early MesopotamiaMark S. Schwartz (Grand Valley State University)                                                                                                                      |
| 9:30-9:55am                     | Sacred Violence in the Ancient Iranian World: Between Continuity and Innovation in Longue Durée of Imperial Iranian HegemonyMark K. Gradoni (University of California, Irvine)                                                                                             |
| 9:55-10:20am                    | “Shall we Bring the Skulls?” A Neo-Assyrian Ritual Related to WarLaura Battini (CNRS, Paris)*Virtual                                                                                                                                                                   |
| 8:15–10:20am(CST)    | 1J. Archaeology of Egypt I (Private Dining 2)Chair(s): Danielle Candelora , College of the Holy Cross; Jeffrey Newman , University of California, Los Angeles                                                                                                |
| 8:15-8:40am                     | What Petrie Did Not Publish: The Qa’a Stela and Colonial DocumentationAmany A. El Hameed (Penn Culture Heritage Center), Robert Vigar (University of Pennsylvania)                                                                                                  |
| 8:40-9:05am                     | Horus, the High Steward of Senusret I, and his Monuments at Abydos and Wadi el-Hudi, EgyptAmy Wilson (Chronicle Heritage)                                                                                                                                                  |
| 9:05-9:30am                     | The Legal System of Egypt's Early Middle KingdomEmma Glenister (University of Pennsylvania)                                                                                                                                                                                |
| 9:30-9:55am                     | Race, Gender, and the Role of Propaganda as Imperial Violence in Reshaping MemoryDanielle Candelora (College of the Holy Cross)                                                                                                                                            |
| 9:55-10:20am                    | Truth, Justice, and the Egyptian Afterlife: Development of Maat in the New Kingdom Spell 125Danielle Matthews (University of Denver)                                                                                                                                       |
| 10:40am–12:45pm(CST) | 2A. Jerusalem and the Archaeology of a Sacred City II (Continental A) *Chair(s): Yuval Gadot , Tel-Aviv University; Yiftah Shalev , Israel Antiquities Authority                                                                                             |
| 10:40-11:05am                   | Roads to the Holy City: An Integrated Archaeological and Spatial Analysis of Jerusalem's Access Routes (2nd Century BCE–7th Century CE)Yosef Spiezer (Bar Ilan University), Boaz Zissu (Bar Ilan University), Yehiel Zelinger (Israel Antiquities Authority) |
| 11:05-11:30am                   | Holy Borders and Feminine Monuments: A Gendered Topography of Late Second Temple Period JerusalemTehillah Lieberman (Tel-Aviv University)                                                                                                                                  |
| 11:30-11:55am                   | Reframing Jerusalem's Revival: Internal Dynamics and Regional Change from Yehud to the Hasmonean KingdomYiftah Shalev (Israel Antiquities Authority)                                                                                                                       |

* Presentations in this session/workshop that draw on material from occupied territory and its contiguous waters as defined by customary international law have been reviewed by the Program Committee, in consultation with the presenters, to ensure alignment with ASOR's Policy on Professional Conduct, Section III.E.7. Further documentation can be provided by the Program Committee upon request (pc.chairs@asor.org).

|                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
|---------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 11:55am-12:20pm                 | Revisiting Late Iron Age Water Use in Jerusalem's Western SettlementChandler Collins (Bar Ilan University)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| 12:45pm-12:45pm                 | Neo-Assyrian Cuneiform Inscriptions from Jerusalem: Direct Evidence of Imperial Communication with Iron Age Judah/ Ayala Zilberstein and Peter Zilberg (In collaboration with Filip Vukosavović, Anat Cohen-Weinberger, and Yehudit Harlavan.Ayala Zilberstein (Israel Antiquities Authority), Peter Zilberg (Bar-Ilan University) |
| 10:40am–12:45pm(CST) | 2B. Archaeology of Mesopotamia II (Continental B)Chair(s): Lucas Proctor , J.W. Goethe University Frankfurt; Glynnis Maynard , Cambridge University                                                                                                                                                                         |
| 10:40-11:05am                   | Settlement Pattern Transformation and Network Centrality in Early Dynastic and Akkadian MesopotamiaFatemeh Javanmardi (Bern Universität)*Virtual                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| 11:05-11:30am                   | Magnetometry Survey of Nippur's Southern ExtensionEmily Hammer (University of Pennsylvania), Ian House (University of Pennsylvania)                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| 11:30-11:55am                   | Between Oil and Civilization, The Untouchable LegacyAli Alyaqoobi (State Board of Antiquities and Heritage - Basrah Civilization Museum)                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| 11:55am-12:20pm                 | A Multi-Scalar and Iterative Approach to Studying Ancient Lagash City: Big Dig Results without the Big Dig DestructionPaul C. Zimmerman (Penn Museum)*Virtual                                                                                                                                                                         |
| 10:40am–12:45pm(CST) | 2C. How to Prepare for When Disaster Strikes (Workshop) (Continental C)Chair(s): Alexandria Albano , Independent scholar; Tashia Dare , Independent scholar                                                                                                                                                                 |
| 10:40-10:50am                   | Response Ready: Emergency Response Planning Tools for Cultural InstitutionsIrene Karsten (Canadian Conservation Institute)*Virtual                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| 10:50-11:00am                   | Rising Temperatures and the Deterioration of Historical and Archaeological Sites: Preparedness StrategiesYaroub Al Obaidi (Duquesne University), Ahmed Khamas (State Board of Antiquities & Heritage- Iraq)                                                                                                                        |
| 11:00-11:10am                   | Acting in the Moment: Flood Resilience on a Budget Through Administrative Change, Compliance Alignment, and Behavioral Risk Management in University CollectionsLynn Swartz Dodd (University of Southern California)                                                                                                                      |
| 11:10-11:20am                   | Disaster Response and Mitigation in Libya in the Aftermath of Storm DanielDarren Ashby (ASOR)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| 11:20-11:30am                   | Fortifying the Past: Safeguarding Cultural Heritage Against Human ThreatsCatherine P. Foster (Argus Cultural Property Consultants)                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| 11:30-11:40am                   | Strengthening Museum Resilience: Closing Gaps in Disaster Recovery PlanningLeah Chambers (Granite Insurance Agency)                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| 11:40-11:50am                   | How to Prepare for When Disaster Strikes: A Donor's PerspectiveMartin Perschler (U.S. Department of State)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| 11:50am-12:45pm                 | Discussion                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| 10:40am–12:45pm(CST) | 2D. Publishing Scholarship of the Ancient World in the Mid 21st Century (Workshop) (Waldorf)Chair(s): William Caraher , University of North Dakota                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| 10:40-11:05am                   | Foregrounding Data in the AI eraAndrea M. Berlin (Boston University)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| 10:50-11:00am                   | ASOR-ARS and the Future of the Archaeological ReportJennie Ebeling (University of Evansville)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| 11:00-11:10am                   | The Persistence of Memory: Data Citation, Data Curation and DurabilityEric C. Kansa (Open Context), Sarah Whitcher Kansa (Open Context)                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| 11:10-11:20am                   | The Hybrid Digital/Narrative Archaeological Site Report: A Multi-tiered Approach to Publishing Excavation ResultsAnn E. Killebrew (The Pennsylvania State University)                                                                                                                                                                     |

|                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
|---------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 11:20-11:30am                   | Declared, Suspected, Undisclosed: AI in Archaeological PublishingChristina Tsouparopoulou (UKSW, Warsaw & Durham University)                                                                                                          |
| 11:30-11:40am                   | Green Open Access in ASOR JournalsJason A. Ur (Harvard University)                                                                                                                                                                    |
| 11:40am-12:45pm                 | Discussion                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| 10:40am–12:45pm(CST) | 2E. Archaeology of the Southern Levant II (Marquette)Chair(s): Sarah Richardson, North Carolina State University                                                                                                                      |
| 10:40-11:05am                   | When is Ship-Graffito not Ex-voto?Michal Artzy (Hatter Laboratory, School of Archaeology, University of Haifa)                                                                                                                        |
| 11:05-11:30am                   | Identification and Archaeology of the Priestly Courses TownsFaizan A. Khan (Lipscomb University; Lanier Center for Archaeology), Chris McKinny (Lipscomb University)                                                                  |
| 11:30-11:55am                   | Hidden Threads: Microhistory and Generative Endemic Polycentrism in Southern Levantine ArchaeologyOyvstein S. LaBianca (Andrews University)                                                                                           |
| 11:55am-12:20pm                 | Aramean Versus Israelite Settlement PatternsRami Arav (University of Nebraska at Omaha)                                                                                                                                               |
| 10:40am–12:45pm(CST) | 2F. The Field Still Is Not Safe: Confronting Cultures of Harassment on Archaeological Field Projects (Workshop)(Williford A)Chair(s): Karlene Shippelhoute, Johns Hopkins University; Avary Taylor, Yale University |
| 10:40-10:50am                   | Doing our Best? ASOR'S Role in Promoting Safety in the FieldBeth Alpert Nakhai (University of Arizona)                                                                                                                                |
| 10:50-11:00am                   | Digging Under Duress: Harassment and Accountability on ASOR-Affiliated Archaeological ProjectsKarlene Shippelhoute (Johns Hopkins University)                                                                                         |
| 11:00-11:10am                   | Changing the Culture of Fieldwork: ASOR's Cultural Competency Video ProjectMarta E. Ostovich (ASOR)                                                                                                                                   |
| 11:10-11:20am                   | "Everyone has a Story": Combatting Pervasive Cultures of Harm on Archaeology Field SchoolsKatherine E. Rose (Institute for Field Research)                                                                                            |
| 11:20-11:30am                   | Beyond Access: Power, Precarity, and the Limits of "Safe" Fieldwork in ArchaeologyJenail Marshall (William Leo Hansberry Society), Debora Heard (University of Chicago)                                                               |
| 11:30am-12:45pm                 | Moderator &amp; DiscussionJulia Troche (Missouri State University)                                                                                                                                                                    |
| 10:40am–12:45pm(CST) | 2G. Digital Archaeology and History II (Williford B)Chair(s): Leigh Anne Lieberman, Princeton University; Matthew Howland, Wichita State University                                                                                   |
| 10:40-11:05am                   | Co-Creating Virtual Heritage: Community-Based Digital Archaeology at Sardis, TurkiyeEce Erlat (University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill)                                                                                           |
| 11:05-11:30am                   | Digital Storytelling through Subtle ContextualisationDominik Lengyel (BTU University of Technology), Catherine Toulouse (Independent Researcher)                                                                                      |
| 11:30-11:55am                   | Making the Cards Count: Digitizing Archaeological Documentation from Antioch-on-the-OrontesEmily Smith-Sangster (Princeton University), Julia Gearhart (Princeton University), Leigh Anne Lieberman (Princeton University)            |
| 11:55am-12:20pm                 | Report on the Digitization Projects at the Princeton Theological Seminary Cuneiform CollectionAndrew Peecher (Princeton Theological Seminary)                                                                                         |
| 12:20-12:45pm                   | The Digital Corpus of Stamp-Seals from the Southern Levant (CSSL): From Foundational Infrastructure to New Research HorizonsIdo Koch (Tel Aviv University), Stefan Münzer (University of Bern)                                        |

- 10:40am–12:45pm (CST) 2H. Archaeology of Anatolia II (Williford C)
Chair(s): Nancy Amelia Highcock, Ashmolean Museum, University of Oxford; Oya Topçuoğlu, Northwestern University
- 10:40-11:05am Ritual in Place: Spatializing Hittite Ritual Practice
N. İlgi İ. Gerçek (Bilkent University)
- 11:05-11:30am The Cult of the Stag God: An Offering to Runtiya from Türkmen-Karahöyük?
Nathan C. Lovejoy (Università Ca' Foscari Venezia), Christine Mikeska (University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill)
- 11:30-11:55am Examining Inscribed Central Anatolian Step Monuments as an Assemblage of Practice
Ryan H. Schnell (New York University - ISAW)
- 11:55am-12:20pm A Closer Look at Iron Age Anatolian Inscribed Monuments and their Potential Histories: The Case of the Phrygian Black Stones from Tyana
Leopoldo Fox-Zampiccoli (New York University)
- 12:20-12:45pm A Hellenistic Mudbrick Building with Painted Plaster and Stucco Ornament at Türkmen-Karahöyük
Cory Crawford (Ohio University), Dominik Lukas (University of Chicago)
- 10:40am–12:45pm (CST) 2I. Violence in the Ancient Near East and Hebrew Bible II (Astoria)
Chair(s): Anthony SooHoo, Pontifical Biblical Institute (Rome); Megan Cifarelli, Manhattanville College
- 10:40-11:05am Icon and Embodiment: Violence, Real and Imagined, in Egyptian Imperial Pageantry at the End of the 18th Dynasty
Carla G. Mesa Guzzo (Independent Researcher)
*Virtual
- 11:05-11:30am “Between Her Legs He Kneled, He Fell, He Lay”: Metaphoric Sexual Violence Against Men in Judges
Jennifer Lehmann (Independent Scholar)
- 11:30-11:55am Desire, Agency, and Latent Violence in the Sex Omens of Shumma Alu: Flipping the Cultural Script
Ann K. Guinan (Babylonian Section, Penn Museum)
- 11:55am-12:20pm The Devil Made Me Do It!: Demonic Possession and Suicide in Ancient Mesopotamia
Holden Marshall (University of Pennsylvania)
- 10:40am–12:45pm (CST) 2J. Archaeology of Egypt II (Private Dining 2)
Chair(s): Danielle Candelora, College of the Holy Cross; Jeffrey Newman, University of California, Los Angeles
- 10:40-11:05am Wine and Empire: Identifying Wine via Tartaric Acid Biomarkers along the Ancient Middle Nile
Emily K. Smith (University of California, Santa Barbara), Muqadas Bashir (University of California, Santa Barbara), Stuart Tyson Smith (University of California, Santa Barbara), Mattanjah de Vries (University of California, Santa Barbara)
- 11:05-11:30am Molding Baal Hammon: The Divine Potter of Carthage
Joseph Brennan (Southern Methodist University)
- 11:30-11:55am Ancient Reuse, Modern Usurpation: History of Interactions with the Tomb of Bakenrenef
Thomas M. Pflanz (Field Museum of Natural History/CUNY - Hunter College)
- 11:55am-12:20pm The Golden Tongues from the Quesna Necropolis
Ahmed H. ElBadwy (Ministry of Tourism and Antiquities)
- 12:20-12:45pm Pious Priests or Businessmen? Ptolemaic Egyptian Religion from an Economic Perspective
Lauren Dogaer (University College Oxford)
- 2:00–4:05pm (CST) 3A. Urbanism and Politics in the Bronze and Iron Age Levant I (Continental A) ****
Chair(s): Omer Sergi, Tel Aviv University; Daniel Master, Wheaton College; Karen Covello-Paran, Israel Antiquities Authority
- 2:00-2:25pm Tel Hadid in the Iron Age: New Findings from 2018–2026 Excavations
Ido Koch (Tel Aviv University), Jim Parker (New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary)
- 2:25-2:50pm Beyond the Rural–Urban Divide: Multi-Phase Occupation and Sociopolitical Change at Iron Age Tel Shaddud
Karen Covello-Paran (Israel Antiquities Authority), Omer Sergi (Tel Aviv University)

---

* Presentations in this session/workshop that draw on material from occupied territory and its contiguous waters as defined by customary international law have been reviewed by the Program Committee, in consultation with the presenters, to ensure alignment with ASOR's Policy on Professional Conduct, Section III.E.7. Further documentation can be provided by the Program Committee upon request (pc.chairs@asor.org).

|                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
|----------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 2:50-3:15pm          | Tel Shimron in the Iron AgeDaniel M. Master (Wheaton College)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| 3:15-3:40pm          | Monumental Architecture at Dor in the Early Iron AgeSveta Matskevich (The Hebrew University of Jerusalem), Ayelet Gilboa (University of Haifa), Pnina Torn Broers (The Hebrew University of Jerusalem), Harel Shochat (University of Haifa)                                                                                                                 |
| 2:00–4:05pm(CST) | 3B. The Archaeology of the Kurdistan Region of Iraq I (Continental B)Chair(s): Petra M. Creamer, Emory University; Elise J. Laugier, Utah State University                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| 2:00-2:25pm          | Urban Settlements and Landscapes on the Erbil Plain: New Insights from Regional and Geophysical SurveyElise Laugier (Utah State University), Mohammed Lashkri (General Directorate of Antiquities, Kurdistan Region of Iraq), Madeline M. Ouimet (University of Chicago), Andrew Creekmore (University of Northern Colorado), Jason Ur (Harvard University) |
| 2:25-2:50pm          | Termination Rituals and Rural Religion at Surezha (Iraqi Kurdistan) in the 5th Millennium BCEGil J. Stein (University of Chicago), Michael Fisher (Max Planck Institute - Jena), Rasha Elendari (Independent Archaeologist), Samuel Harris (University of Chicago)                                                                                          |
| 2:50-3:15pm          | Modelling Settlement Dynamics from the Halaf to the Late Chalcolithic 3 at Helawa (Erbil Plain, Kurdistan Region of Iraq)Michael Campeggi (University of Milan), Agnese Vacca (University of Milan), Luca Peyronel (University of Milan)*Virtual                                                                                                        |
| 3:15-3:40pm          | Inscribing Legitimacy: New Evidence from the Bilingual Monument of Paikuli (KRG, Iraq)Carlo G. Cereti (University of California, Irvine), Gianfilippo Terribili (Sapienza - University of Rome)                                                                                                                                                             |
| 3:40-4:05pm          | “No Friends But The Mountains”: The Embattled Heritage of the Ancient Highlands of KurdistanSandra A. Scham (Catholic University of America)                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| 2:00–4:05pm(CST) | 3C. Tell en-Naşbeh at 100 Years: Past, Present, and Future I (Continental C) *Chair(s): Jeffrey R. Zorn; Aaron Brody, Pacific School of Religion                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| 2:00-2:25pm          | A Tell en-Naşbeh PotpourriJeffrey R. Zorn                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| 2:25-2:50pm          | Indigenous Knowledge and Archaeological Interpretation at Tell en-NasbehJennie Ebeling (University of Evansville)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| 2:50-3:15pm          | The Collective Effort in Archaeology: Processing, Conserving, and Documenting Tell en-Nasbeh Finds Exported to the USCaitlin O'Grady (University of California Los Angeles)                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| 3:15-3:40pm          | Tell en-Naşbeh Archives at 100: New Readings of Burial Practice from Old Excavation RecordsMelissa S. Cradic (Bade Museum of Archaeology at Pacific School of Religion; University at Albany, SUNY; Alexandria Archive Institute/Open Context)                                                                                                              |
| 2:00–4:05pm(CST) | 3D. Interconnectivity and Exchange with Northeast Africa I (Waldorf)Chair(s): Iman Nagy, University of California, Los Angeles; Annissa Malvoisin, The Brooklyn Museum                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| 2:00-2:25pm          | The Plurality of the "Royal Baths" of MeroëShiro Burnette (New York University, The Institute of Fine Arts)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| 2:25-2:50pm          | The Lebanese Cedar Forest and the Egyptian Desert: On Pre- and Early Dynastic Animals, Ships and MummiesFanni Faegersten (Lund University, Sweden)                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| 2:50-3:15pm          | Where's the Beef? Or, Meal Jars &amp; Funerary Rites in a Wider African ContextLaMarrison Forte (Independent Researcher)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| 3:15-3:40pm          | The Colonial Imprint: A Compositional Analysis of Egyptian and Nubian CeramicsReese Gover (University of California Santa Barbara)                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |

---

* Presentations in this session/workshop that draw on material from occupied territory and its contiguous waters as defined by customary international law have been reviewed by the Program Committee, in consultation with the presenters, to ensure alignment with ASOR's Policy on Professional Conduct, Section III.E.7. Further documentation can be provided by the Program Committee upon request (pc.chairs@asor.org).

|                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
|----------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 2:00–4:05pm(CST) | 3E. The Archaeology of the Kingdom of Judah (Marquette) *Chair(s): Sarah Richardson, North Carolina State University                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| 2:00–2:25pm          | The Assyrian Century in Judah in Light of New Archaeological EvidenceFilip Vukosavovic (Israel Antiquities Authority)                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| 2:25–2:50pm          | Rethinking Cultic Practice in Iron Age Judah: New Insights from Iron Age IIA LachishItamar Weissbein (The Hebrew University of Jerusalem), Yosef Garfinkel (The Hebrew University of Jerusalem)                                                                                                                                               |
| 2:50–3:15pm          | Simeonites in the Shephelah?Chris McKinny (Lipscomb University)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| 3:15–3:40pm          | Culture and Conflict: A Preliminary Faunal Analysis of the Zooarchaeological Remains from the 4th Expedition to LachishEdward F. Maher (North Central College)                                                                                                                                                                                |
| 3:40–4:05pm          | Daily life in the Kingdom of Judah: A View from Tell HalifOded Borowski (Emory University)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| 2:00–4:05pm(CST) | 3F. Gender in the Ancient Near East I (Williford A)Chair(s): Avary Taylor, Yale University; Kelsie Ehalt, University of Michigan                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| 2:00–2:25pm          | Orientalism, Gender, and Egyptology: The Use of the Word "Harem"Jacquelyn Williamson (George Mason University)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| 2:25–2:50pm          | Performing Queenship: Puduhepa and the Gendered Construction of Royal Authority in HattiMichael Moore (Brevard College)                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| 2:50–3:15pm          | From Kin to King: Reconfiguring Legitimacy in Eighteenth Dynasty EgyptShanshan Han (University of Auckland)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| 3:15–3:40pm          | Redefining 'Dynasty': The Power of Sargonid Royal Women in the Iconographic RecordClare Parry (Independent Academic)                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| 3:40–4:05pm          | Inventing the Heiress: Neferure and Succession in the Reigns of Hatshepsut and Thutmose IIICeleste Curran (University of Pennsylvania)                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| 2:00–4:05pm(CST) | 3G. New Approaches to Ancient Animals II (Williford B)Chair(s): Christine Mikeska, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill; Theo Kassebaum, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill                                                                                                                                                       |
| 2:00–2:25pm          | Isotopic Evidence for Cattle Management from the Ancient Urban Center of Gordion, TürkiyeNicole Hultquist (Boston University), David C. Meiggs (Rochester Institute of Technology), Diksha Basta (Boston College), Petra Vaiglova (The Australian National University), Ethan F. Baxter (Boston College), John M. Marston (Boston University) |
| 2:25–2:50pm          | A Lion at the Center: Rethinking the Hunt Scene of the Alexander SarcophagusJessica L. Nitschke (Stellenbosch University)                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| 2:50–3:15pm          | Ancient Near East Animal Iconography: Gods and Their TotemsIlona Rashkow (Stony Brook University)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| 3:15–3:40pm          | Call and Response: Animal Voices in DialogueSeth F. Richardson (University of Chicago)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| 3:40–4:05pm          | Enigmatic Embodied Experiences: Interpreting Animal Agency at Bronze Age Anau Depe, TurkmenistanJackson Clark (University of North Carolina - Chapel Hill)                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| 2:00–4:05pm(CST) | 3H. Archaeology of Anatolia III (Williford C)Chair(s): Nancy Amelia Highcock, Ashmolean Museum, University of Oxford; Oya Topçuoğlu, Northwestern University                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| 2:00–2:25pm          | Kiln Technology, Production and Economic Impact in Cilician Port Cities: Elaiussa Sebaste and Antiochia ad CragumAsena Kizilarslanoglu (Kastamonu University)*Virtual                                                                                                                                                                     |

---

* Presentations in this session/workshop that draw on material from occupied territory and its contiguous waters as defined by customary international law have been reviewed by the Program Committee, in consultation with the presenters, to ensure alignment with ASOR's Policy on Professional Conduct, Section III.E.7. Further documentation can be provided by the Program Committee upon request (pc.chairs@asor.org).

|                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
|-----------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 2:25-2:50pm                 | The Ceramic Finds from Late Byzantine to Early Ottoman Pergamon: New Evidence from the Stadtgrabung ExcavationsSofia M. Kane (Fine Arts Museums of San Francisco)                                                            |
| 2:50-3:15pm                 | From Wild to DOM2: Horses in Anatolia from the Neolithic to the Iron AgeBenjamin Arbuckle (University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill)                                                                                      |
| 3:15-3:40pm                 | Down to Brass Tacks: Exploring the Innovation of High-Zinc Bronze Alloying on the Central Anatolian Plateau in the 1st Millennium BCEBraden W. Cordivari (Institute for the Study of the Ancient World, New York University) |
| 2:00-4:05pm(CST) | 3I. Violence in the Ancient Near East and Hebrew Bible III (Astoria) *Chair(s): Anthony SooHoo, Pontifical Biblical Institute (Rome); Megan Cifarelli, Manhattanville College                                                |
| 2:00-2:25pm                 | The Threat of Violence in Biblical Law and the Neo-Babylonian Temple ArchivesBruce Wells (University of Texas at Austin)                                                                                                     |
| 2:25-2:50pm                 | Historicizing Experiences and Intergenerational Aftermath of Violence in ancient JudahLeslie Virnelson (United Lutheran Seminary)                                                                                            |
| 2:50-3:15pm                 | Impressive Tensions: Seals, Sealplay, and Sensations of Violence at PersepolisNeville McFerrin (University of North Texas)                                                                                                   |
| 3:15-3:40pm                 | From Çatalhöyük to the Narmer Palette: A Girardian Approach to Imagery of Twin LeopardsMark Anspach (Imitatio)*Virtual                                                                                                   |
| 2:00-4:05pm(CST) | 3J. Negotiating Elites: Strategies of Elite Practices and Consumption as Reactions to Political Dynamics I (Private Dining 2) *Chair(s): Reli Avisar, Tel Aviv University and Haifa University                               |
| 2:00-2:25pm                 | Methodological Problems for Identifying Elites and Elite Material Culture in the Ancient Near EastZachary Thomas (Australian Catholic University), Louise A. Hitchcock (Independent Researcher)                              |
| 2:25-2:50pm                 | The Parasocial Relationship of Egyptian Elites with their KingJessica Tomkins (Wofford College)                                                                                                                              |
| 2:50-3:15pm                 | Divine Election, Ritual Mediation, and Cosmic Order: The Ideology of Kingship in the Neo-Assyrian EmpireKateryna Baulina (Taras Shevchenko National University of Kyiv)                                                      |
| 3:15-3:40pm                 | Negotiation &amp; Identity at the Margins: Herod the Great as a Roman Client KingAnna Banowsky (University of California, Santa Barbara)                                                                                     |
| 3:40-4:05pm                 | Local Elites and the Egyptian Empire in Late Bronze Age MegiddoReli Avisar (Tel Aviv University and Haifa University)                                                                                                        |
| 4:25-6:30pm(CST) | 4A. Urbanism and Politics in the Bronze and Iron Age Levant II (Continental A) *Chair(s): Omer Sergi, Tel Aviv University; Daniel Master, Wheaton College; Karen Covello-Paran, Israel Antiquities Authority                 |
| 4:25-4:50pm                 | The Development of Philistine Urbanization during the Iron AgeAnn E. Killebrew (The Pennsylvania State University)                                                                                                           |
| 4:50-5:15pm                 | The Color of Iron Age Urbanism: Red-Slipped and Burnished Wares and the Creation of a New Visual Space in the Southern LevantAssaf Kleiman (Ben-Gurion University of the Negev)                                              |
| 5:15-5:40pm                 | "The Sons of Ammon" as Royal InventionJoel S. S. Burnett (Baylor University)                                                                                                                                                 |
| 5:40-6:30pm                 | Discussion                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |

---

* Presentations in this session/workshop that draw on material from occupied territory and its contiguous waters as defined by customary international law have been reviewed by the Program Committee, in consultation with the presenters, to ensure alignment with ASOR's Policy on Professional Conduct, Section III.E.7. Further documentation can be provided by the Program Committee upon request (pc.chairs@asor.org).

|                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
|----------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 4:25–6:30pm(CST) | 4B. The Archaeology of the Kurdistan Region of Iraq II (Continental B)Chair(s): Petra M. Creamer, Emory University; Elise J. Laugier, Utah State University                                                                                                                                         |
| 4:25-4:50pm          | Craft Production in the Age of Imperial Expansion: Neo-Assyrian Pottery in Cross-cultural PerspectiveBritt E. Hartenberger (Western Michigan University), Timothy Matney (University of Akron)                                                                                                      |
| 4:50-5:15pm          | Results from the 2026 Remote Sensing Season at Qach RreshPetra M. Creamer (Emory University), Kyra Kaercher (Montana State University-Northern), Glynnis Maynard (University of Cambridge), Elise Jakoby Laugier (Utah State University), Laurel Poolman (University of Maryland, Baltimore County) |
| 5:15-5:40pm          | Clay, Craft, and Chronology: Ceramic Production and Change at Qach Rresh, Iraqi KurdistanKyra Kaercher (Montana State University-Northern)                                                                                                                                                          |
| 5:40-6:05pm          | From Provincial Farm to Palace Table: Imperial Ceramic Practice across the Neo-Assyrian NetworkAlexandra Wrathall (University of Osnabrück)                                                                                                                                                         |
| 6:05-6:30pm          | Empire in the Provincial Hinterland: The Neo-Assyrian and Hellenistic-Parthian Occupation at Kani ShaieSteve Renette (University of Cambridge), Glynnis Maynard (University of Cambridge), Brady Hill                                                                                               |
| 4:25–6:30pm(CST) | 4C. Tell en-Naşbeh at 100 Years: Past, Present, and Future II (Continental C) *Chair(s): Jeffrey R. Zorn; Aaron Brody, Pacific School of Religion                                                                                                                                                   |
| 4:25-4:50pm          | Tell en-Nasbeh in the Early Iron Age: New InsightsKyle Keimer (Pillar Seminary)                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| 4:50-5:15pm          | A Century of Tell en-Naşbeh: Imaging, Theory, and Presence in Judean Pillar FigurinesLauren K. McCormick (Biblical Archaeology Society)                                                                                                                                                             |
| 5:15-5:40pm          | Reevaluating Tel en-Nasbeh at the Persian PeriodAharon Tavger , Liora Freud (Tel Aviv University), Oded Lipschits (Tel Aviv University)                                                                                                                                                             |
| 5:40-6:05pm          | Settlement in Decline: Excavation Insights from Tell en-Naşbeh in the Hellenistic and Roman PeriodsDvir Raviv (Bar-Ilan University)                                                                                                                                                                 |
| 4:25–6:30pm(CST) | 4D. Interconnectivity and Exchange with Northeast Africa II (Waldorf)Chair(s): Iman Nagy, University of California, Los Angeles; Annissa Malvoisin, The Brooklyn Museum                                                                                                                             |
| 4:25-4:50pm          | The Papyrus of Ani and the Ten Commandments: What is the Real Deal?Josef "Ben" Ben Levi (William Leo Hansberry Society)                                                                                                                                                                             |
| 4:50-5:15pm          | Who Owns Deep Time? Coloniality and the Invention of the Ancient WorldIman Nagy (University of California, Los Angeles)                                                                                                                                                                             |
| 5:15-5:40pm          | The Art of Religious Entanglement in the Kharga Oasis: An Unpublished Domestic Wall SceneJasmine Smith (New York University)                                                                                                                                                                        |
| 5:40-6:05pm          | Gaming Networks in Ancient Nubia, North Africa, and BeyondCarl R. Walsh (New York University)                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| 4:25–6:30pm(CST) | 4E. Archaeology of the Southern Levant III: Papers in Honor of Yosef Garfinkel (Marquette)Chair(s): Michael G. Hasel, Southern Adventist University; Sarah Richardson, North Carolina State University                                                                                              |
| 4:25-4:50pm          | The Economy of a Household at the Fringes of the Judean Kingdom in the 8th Century BCEMichael Freikman (The Hebrew University of Jerusalem), Igor Kreimerman (The Hebrew University of Jerusalem)                                                                                                   |
| 4:50-5:15pm          | The Kingdom of Judah in Light of the Seventh Expedition to Tel Lachish in 2022-2026Hoo-Goo Kang (Seoul Jangsin University)                                                                                                                                                                          |
| 5:15-5:40pm          | Tracing Literacy in Iron Age JudahMichael G. Hasel (Institute of Archaeology, Southern Adventist University)                                                                                                                                                                                        |

---

* Presentations in this session/workshop that draw on material from occupied territory and its contiguous waters as defined by customary international law have been reviewed by the Program Committee, in consultation with the presenters, to ensure alignment with ASOR's Policy on Professional Conduct, Section III.E.7. Further documentation can be provided by the Program Committee upon request (pc.chairs@asor.org).

|                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
|-----------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 5:40-6:05pm                 | Response: The Three Phases of The Iron IIA in JudahYosef Garfinkel (The Hebrew University of Jerusalem)                                                                                                         |
| 4:25–6:30pm(CST) | 4F. Gender in the Ancient Near East II (Williford A)Chair(s): Avery Taylor, Yale University; Kelsie Ehalt, University of Michigan                                                                               |
| 4:25-4:50pm                 | Mirrors and Movable Property as a “Lens” for Studying Mesopotamian Social HistoryAllison K. Thomason (Southern Illinois University Edwardsville)                                                                |
| 4:50-5:15pm                 | Body as a Sign: Embodied Masculine Authority in Anthropomorphic Vessels of Iron Age II–III, IranBitā Mesbah (Semnan University)                                                                                 |
| 5:15-5:40pm                 | “They Have Taken Away My Potency Like Slackened Cords!” Impotence, Power, and Gendered Fear in Mesopotamian TextsWenqi Fang (University College London)                                                         |
| 5:40-6:05pm                 | “Because my competence was great”: Named Individuals in the Funerary Iconography of the Royal Women of Mentuhotep IITori Finlayson (Johns Hopkins University)                                                   |
| 6:05-6:30pm                 | The Gender of Venus in Mesopotamian Celestial DivinationParker Zane (Yale University)                                                                                                                           |
| 4:25–6:30pm(CST) | 4G. New Approaches to Ancient Animals II (Williford B)Chair(s): Christine Mikeska, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill; Theo Kassebaum, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill                         |
| 4:25-4:50pm                 | Living with Dogs: Social Roles, Ritual Practice, and Human-Animal Relations in the Southern Levant (Iron Age to Hellenistic Period)Lidar Sapir-Hen (Tel Aviv University), Deirdre N. Fulton (Baylor University) |
| 4:50-5:15pm                 | Multispecies Domestic Life in a Roman Oasis: Faunal Evidence from House B10 at AmheidaSarah Elaebrak (CUNY Graduate Center)                                                                                     |
| 5:15-5:40pm                 | Paws and Remember: Pet Agency in Graeco-Roman Funerary ContextsAmanda Porter (The Metropolitan Museum of Art)                                                                                                   |
| 5:40-6:05pm                 | Reprocessing Domestication: The Case for a Fresh Process-Oriented ApproachLiam Chan Hodges (University of Chicago)                                                                                              |
| 6:05-6:30pm                 | The Lives of Stock at Tel Abel Beth MaacahTheo Kassebaum (University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill)                                                                                                            |
| 4:25–6:30pm(CST) | 4H. The Medieval Village (Workshop) (Williford C)Chair(s): Debra Foran, Wilfrid Laurier University                                                                                                              |
| 4:25-4:35pm                 | The Early Medieval Village at Khirbat al-MukhayyatDebra Foran (Wilfrid Laurier University)                                                                                                                      |
| 4:35-4:45pm                 | Ambiguities of “Village” Life at Tall Hisban, 12th-16th centuriesBethany J. Walker (University of Bonn)                                                                                                         |
| 4:45-4:55pm                 | Khirbat al-Balu’a and the Economic Life of the Medieval VillageIan W. Jones (New York University)                                                                                                               |
| 4:55-5:05pm                 | Estates, Villages, and Towns: Defining Non-Urban Medieval Settlements in the Islamic Near EastAsa A. Eger (University of North Carolina at Greensboro)                                                          |
| 5:05-5:15pm                 | The Medieval Life and Times of Central Anatolian VillagesMarica Cassis (University of Calgary)*Virtual                                                                                                      |
| 5:15-6:30pm                 | Discussion                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |

|                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
|----------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 4:25–6:30pm(CST) | 4I. Petra and the Kingdom &amp; Influences of the Nabataeans (Astoria)Chair(s): Cynthia Finlayson, LAPIS: Archaeology & Cultural Heritage Foundation; Anna Accettola, Hamilton College                                                                                                                                       |
| 4:25-4:50pm          | Developing a Typology and Chronology for Non-Monumental Funerary Features in PetraJennifer H. Ramsay (SUNY Brockport), Björn Anderson (University of Iowa)                                                                                                                                                                   |
| 4:50-5:15pm          | Hellenistic Precedents &amp; Influences on Nabataean Fine Wares &amp; New Clay Source TheoryCynthia S. Finlayson (LAPIS: Archaeology & Cultural Heritage Foundation)                                                                                                                                                         |
| 5:15-5:40pm          | Reassessing Nabataean Client StatusAnna Accettola (Hamilton College)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| 5:40-6:05pm          | Teaching Nabataean and Classical Period Ceramics in JordanSarah E. Wenner (Cincinnati Art Museum)                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| 4:25–6:30pm(CST) | 4J. Negotiating Elites: Strategies of Elite Practices and Consumption as Reactions to Political Dynamics II (Private Dining 2)Chair(s): Reli Avisar, Tel Aviv University and Haifa University                                                                                                                                |
| 4:25-4:50pm          | Reimagining the Lebanese Cedar Forest in Levantine ArtCarolina Lopez-Ruiz (University of Chicago), Fanni Faegersten (Lund University, Sweden)                                                                                                                                                                                |
| 4:50-5:15pm          | Proprietary Technology, Attached Specialization, and Elite Negotiation: Reframing Bath-Shaped Vessels as Fulling InstallationsLaura Mazow (East Carolina University)                                                                                                                                                         |
| 5:15-5:40pm          | Transmission and Transformation in the Adriatic Iron Age: A Study of Imported Drinking Wares from the Hillfort Site of Gradina Rat on BračSarah A. James (University of Colorado Boulder)                                                                                                                                    |
| 5:40-6:05pm          | The King's ks: Metal Bowls as Symbols of Royal Power in the Late Bronze Age LevantSarah E. Harrington (University of California, Los Angeles)                                                                                                                                                                                |
| 6:05-6:30pm          | Edible Boundaries: Pig Consumption and Elite Negotiation in the Hittite WorldEbru G. Ayten (Independent Researcher), Evangelia Pişkin (Middle East Technical University)*Virtual                                                                                                                                         |
| 4:25–6:30pm(CST) | 4K Archaeology of Religion in the Levant during the Second and First Millennia BCE I (Boulevard) *Chair(s): Alice Mandell, Johns Hopkins University; Jeremy Smoak, University of California, Los AngelesTheme: Papers in this session are dedicated to Divinity in Ancient Israel and Beyond in honor of Theodore Lewis. |
| 4:25–4:50pm          | An Israelite Triad: the Davidic King, the Jerusalem Temple and YahwehElizabeth Bloch-Smith (Princeton Theological Seminary)                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| 4:50–5:15pm          | God's History and the History of ReligionKarel van der Toorn (University of Amsterdam)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| 5:15–5:40pm          | Portraits of Divinity: Ted Lewis and the Characterization of Gods in the Ancient LevantJohn T. "TJ" Thames Jr. (Clemson University)                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| 5:40–6:05pm          | "Who Among the Gods is an Expeller of Sickness?" The Divine Use of Healing Intermediaries in the Hezekiah and Kirta NarrativesRosanne Liebermann (Aarhus University, Denmark)                                                                                                                                                |
| 6:05–6:30pm          | RespondentTheodore Lewis (Johns Hopkins University)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |

---

* Presentations in this session/workshop that draw on material from occupied territory and its contiguous waters as defined by customary international law have been reviewed by the Program Committee, in consultation with the presenters, to ensure alignment with ASOR's Policy on Professional Conduct, Section III.E.7. Further documentation can be provided by the Program Committee upon request (pc.chairs@asor.org).

- 8:15–10:20am 5A. The Age of Transitions: Imperial Successions and Local Transformations in the First Millennium BCE I (Continental A)
(CST)
Chair(s): Roi Sabar, Hebrew University of Jerusalem; Avraham Mashiach, Hebrew University of Jerusalem
- 8:15-8:40am Labor, Exemption, and the Scribal Construction of Reciprocity: Ideological Categories in Neo-Assyrian Political Economy
Jonathan Schmidt-Swartz (New York University)
*Virtual
- 8:40-9:05am Friend or Foe: The Shifting Posture of Jewish Imperial Ideology in Aramaic Court Narratives
Tyler Jarvis (UCLA)
- 9:05-9:30am Imperial Succession and the Judean-Samaritan Entanglement
Rotem Avneri Meir (Yale University)
- 9:30-9:55am What's in a Name? Using Onomastics to Trace Changing Attitudes towards Slavery in the Ptolemaic–Roman Transition
Ella Karev (Tel Aviv University)
- 8:15–10:20am 5B. Cultural Heritage: Preservation, Presentation, and Management I (Continental B)
(CST)
Chair(s): Jessica R. Robkin, University of Central Florida; Nancy Serwint, Arizona State University; Barbara Anglisz, Independent Researcher
- 8:15-8:40am The Israel National Treasures: Opening the National Archaeological Collection to the Public
Debora Ben-Ami (Israel Antiquities Authority)
- 8:40-9:05am Tal Hisban: Transitions, Cultural Heritage, and Notions of the Longue Durée
Stacie Hatfield (Andrews University)
- 9:05-9:30am Climatic Erosion and Illegal Excavations and Their Impact on the Sustainability of Archaeological Sites: Shaoura as a Case Study
Karrar Al-Maidi (University of Glasgow)
- 9:30-9:55am Lessons Learned from Community-Oriented Heritage Preservation Projects in Western Kenya
Edward M. M. Luby (San Francisco State University)
- 8:15–10:20am 5C. Archaeology of Israel I (Continental C) ****
(CST)
Chair(s): Zachary Thomas, Australian Catholic University; Charles Wilson, University of Chicago
- 8:15-8:40am Hieratic Pottery in Canaan as Evidence of Egyptian Taxation and the End of Egyptian Hegemony
Jared H. Chammat (University Of Toronto)
- 8:40-9:05am “Phoenician Bichrome Style”: An Inland Perspective on Phoenician Bichrome Ware from Tel Abel Beth Maacah
Penina Myerson (The Hebrew University of Jerusalem)
- 9:05-9:30am The Gihon of Gath! – Excavating the Iron Age I-IIA Water Gate Plaza and City Fortification Walls of the Philistine Capital at Tell es-Safi/Gath
Jeffrey R. R. Chadwick (Brigham Young University Jerusalem Center)
- 9:30-9:55am Iron Age Fortresses in the Southern Levant: A Systematic Approach to Statecraft
Matthew T. Bronson (Lipscomb University)
- 9:55-10:20am Projectiles and Legionary Siege Strategies of the Third Wall, Jerusalem
Kfir Vitorio Arbiv (Israel Antiquities Authority), Rina Avner (Hebrew University Jerusalem)
- 8:15–10:20am 5D. Archaeology and Biblical Studies I (Waldorf) ****
(CST)
Chair(s): Stephen Cook, Virginia Theological Seminary; Alison Acker Gruseke, Williams College
- 8:15-8:40am “Horns of Light” and Veiled Males? Moses’s Gleaming Face, (Exod 35:29–35), Hammurabi’s Stele, and the Iconography of Sin of Harran in Neo-Assyrian Judah
Alison A. Gruseke (Williams College)

---

* Presentations in this session/workshop that draw on material from occupied territory and its contiguous waters as defined by customary international law have been reviewed by the Program Committee, in consultation with the presenters, to ensure alignment with ASOR’s Policy on Professional Conduct, Section III.E.7. Further documentation can be provided by the Program Committee upon request (pc.chairs@asor.org).

|                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
|------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 8:40-9:05am                  | Judahite Agency, Assyrian Domination: South-of-Jerusalem in the Assyrian CenturyShawn Zelig Aster (Bar-Ilan University), Tzalel Karakukli (Bar-Ilan University)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| 9:05-9:30am                  | The Archaeological Signature of Religious Reforms: A Case-Study from Tel 'Eton and Methodological ConsiderationsAvraham Faust (Bar-Ilan University)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| 9:30-9:55am                  | Locating the Lands of Bazu and PuntStephen C. Compton (University of South Africa)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| 9:55-10:20am                 | "The House of the God of Jacob" in Isaiah 2:1-5 in Light of Archaeological Evidence from the Benjamin RegionJinRi Kim (Perkins School of Theology, SMU)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| 8:15–10:20am(CST) | 5E. Archaeology of the Near East: The Classical Periods (Marquette)Chair(s): Simeon Ehrlich, Georgia State University                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| 8:15-8:40am                  | A Second Century BCE Cypro-Syllabic Inscription from Yavne ExcavationsBarak Monnickendam-Givon (Israel Antiquities Authority), Elisheva Zwiebel (Israel Antiquities Authority), Baruch Yuzefovsky (Israel Antiquities Authority), Jon Seligman (Israel Antiquities Authority), Rivka Ben-Chelouche (Israel Antiquities Authority), Reut Bik (Israel Antiquities Authority), Carmel Shoham (Israel Antiquities Authority) |
| 8:40-9:05am                  | Burning the Fields?: The Case for 'Food Warfare' in Hellenistic GalileeAlexander T. Dorr (Boston University)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| 9:05-9:30am                  | The Podium of Power: Landscape, Hegemony, and the Hasmonean Transformation of Tel HadidAmit Etya (Tel Aviv University)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| 9:30-9:55am                  | Roman Presence in Nabataean Petra: Implications of a Bronze Seal BoxLeigh-Ann Bedal (Penn State Erie, The Behrend College)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| 8:15–10:20am(CST) | 5F. Dwelling in Past: Scales of Settlement, Time, and Society in Anatolia I (Williford A)Chair(s): N. Ilgi Gerçek, Bilkent University; Müge Durusu-Tanrıöver, Temple University                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| 8:15-8:40am                  | We Built This City on Rock and Soil: The Range of Urbanism in Anatolia's Longue DuréeMuge Durusu-Tanriover (Temple University)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| 8:40-9:05am                  | From Çatalhöyük to Türkmen-Karahöyük: A Longue Durée Perspective on Subsistence, Place-making and Ritual in the Konya Plain, 7th-1st Millennia BCEMichele Rüzgar Massa (Bilkent University), James Osborne (University of Chicago), Hüseyin Erpehlivan (Bilecik University)                                                                                                                                              |
| 9:05-9:30am                  | Walls and Worlds: Inclusion and Exclusion at Çadır HöyükJennifer C. Ross (Hood College), Sharon Steadman (SUNY-Cortland)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| 9:30-9:55am                  | Local and Regional Place-Making at Türkmen-Karahöyük in the 2nd millennium BCENancy Highcock (Ashmolean Museum, University of Oxford), Alvise Matessi (University of Verona)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| 9:55-10:20am                 | The Making of a Bronze Age City in AnatoliaCigdem Maner (Koç Üniversitesi, Department of Archaeology and History of Art)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| 8:15–10:20am(CST) | 5G. Archaeology of Rural Communities: Landscape Approaches I (Williford B)Chair(s): Helena Roth, Humboldt University of Berlin                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| 8:15-8:40am                  | Creating Imperial Landscapes: Shifting Settlement Patterns and Agricultural Management Strategies in the Middle Assyrian Northern Mesopotamian PlainDaisy Brunt (University of Cambridge)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| 8:40-9:05am                  | People, Peasants, and the Empires. Rural Landscape of Mesopotamia from Assyria to RomeRocco Palermo (Bryn Mawr College)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| 9:05-9:30am                  | The Role of Ritual during Societal Transformation: Investigating a Community's Relationship to an Evolving Settlement Landscape at Iron I Tel Abel Beth MaacahMatthew N. Susnow (The Hebrew University of Jerusalem)                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| 9:30-9:55am                  | Kh. Es-Suwweida: A Fortified Border Settlement in Ramat MenassehMeir Edrey (University of Haifa)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |

|                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
|-----------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 9:55-10:20am          | A Comparative Spatial Study of the Agricultural Hinterlands of Rehovot-in-the-Negev, Sa'adon, and 'Avdat in the Byzantine and Early Islamic PeriodsAlexander Wiegmann (Israel Antiquities Authority)                                                                                                                                                     |
| 8:15–10:20am(CST) | 5H. Re-imagining the Final Excavation Report: Exploring New Approaches to Publishing Archaeological Data (Workshop) (Williford C)Chair(s): Ann E. Killebrew, Pennsylvania State University; Eric Kansa, Open Context; Sarah Kansa, Open Context                                                                                                                 |
| 8:15-8:25am           | A Retrospective on Hybrid Publishing with Examples from Open ContextSarah Whitcher Kansa (Open Context), Eric C. Kansa (Open Context)                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| 8:25-8:35am           | Re-imagining a Contextualized, Integrated, and Accessible Archaeological Survey Report: The Bay of Iskenderun Landscape Archaeology and Survey Project (Türkiye) as a Case StudyEric C. Kansa (Open Context), Ann E. Killebrew (The Pennsylvania State University), Monica Genuardi (Society for Eastern Mediterranean Archaeology and Heritage Studies) |
| 8:35-8:45am           | Rethinking Excavation ReportsSveta Matskevich (The Hebrew University of Jerusalem)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| 8:45-8:55am           | Linked Open Archaeological Publication in the Age of AI: Reflections from the Eastern Korinthia Archaeological SurveyDavid K. Pettegrew (Messiah University)*Virtual                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| 8:55-9:05am           | Using Wikibase for Sustainable Open-Access Publishing of Digital Archaeological Data: The Timna Valley Database as a Case StudySarah J. Richardson (North Carolina State University Libraries), Vered Silber Varod (Tel Aviv University), Erez Ben-Yosef (Tel Aviv University)                                                                           |
| 9:05-9:15am           | Publishing Durable, Citable, Peer-Reviewed, and Professionally Edited Data on the Web via the University of Chicago Online Research and Publication Service (CORPUS)David Schloen (University of Chicago)                                                                                                                                                |
| 9:15-9:25am           | RespondentRosie Bonté (Brepols)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| 9:25-9:35am           | RespondentWilliam Caraher (University of North Dakota)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| 9:35-9:45am           | RespondentKatie Chin                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| 9:45-9:55am           | RespondentJoe Uziel (Israel Antiquities Authority)*Virtual                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| 9:55-10:05am          | RespondentDaniel Waterman                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| 10:05-10:20am         | Discussion                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| 8:15–10:20am(CST) | 5I. Archaeologies of Memory (Astoria)Chair(s): Janling Fu, Harvard University; Tate Paulette, North Carolina State University                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| 8:15-8:40am           | Generation after Generation: Re-Use and Mortuary Continuity Among EB IA and EB IB Tombs at Bab adh-Dhra', JordanMegan Nishida (University of Notre Dame)                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| 8:40-9:05am           | Pax Sumerica: Outlines of Sumerian Peace in Šulgi's Royal HymnsAviya Fraenkel (Johns Hopkins University)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| 9:05-9:30am           | Babylon as the "First City" and the Limits of Mesopotamian Collective MemoryZachary Rubin (Fudan University)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| 9:30-9:55am           | Using Memory to Construct the Future: Introducing "History-Making" and Its Application to Neo-Babylonian Temple Foundation DepositsDavid Danzig (New York University, Institute for the Study of the Ancient World & Save Ancient Studies Alliance)                                                                                                      |

|                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
|---------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 9:55-10:20am                    | Empty Vessels, Full Worlds: The Productive Forgetting of Sumer, Magan, and Gog in Ancient Near Eastern TraditionNathanael Shelley (Columbia University)                                                                                                                                         |
| 8:15-10:20am(CST)    | 5J. Archaeology of Jordan I (Private Dining 2)Chair(s): Monique Roddy, Walla Walla University; Craig Tyson, D'Youville University; and Stephanie Selover, University of Washington                                                                                                              |
| 8:15-8:40am                     | Modeling Hunting Infrastructure with Miniature Desert KitesChad Hill (University of Pennsylvania), Yorke M. Rowan (University of Chicago)                                                                                                                                                       |
| 8:40-9:05am                     | Zeighan Ancient Landscapes Project (ZAP): Early Bronze I-IV at Tall Abu ez-ZeighanHanna Erfttenbeck (Grinnell College), Natalia M. Handziuk (University of Toronto), Justin A. Holcomb (University of Kansas), Yeonsuk Lee (University of Notre Dame), Megan Nishida (University of Notre Dame) |
| 9:05-9:30am                     | From Sherds to Households: Ceramic Use and Production from Building Ca at Jebel al-Mutawwaq (Area C-West)Sara Ronchetti (University of Perugia)*Virtual                                                                                                                                     |
| 9:30-9:55am                     | The 2026 BRAP Excavation Season at Khirbat al-Balu'a in Central JordanMonique D. Roddy (Walla Walla University), Kent Bramlett (La Sierra University), Friedbert Ninow (La Sierra University)                                                                                                   |
| 9:55-10:20am                    | From Pebble to Offering: Votive Pebble Stones at Khirbat Ataruz, JordanChang-Ho Ji (La Sierra University), Jennifer Helbley (La Sierra University), Raul Zanatta (La Sierra University)                                                                                                         |
| 10:40am-12:45pm(CST) | 6A. The Age of Transitions: Imperial Successions and Local Transformations in the First Millennium BCE II (Continental A)Chair(s): Roi Sabar, Hebrew University of Jerusalem; Avraham Mashiach, Hebrew University of Jerusalem                                                                  |
| 10:40-11:05am                   | Integrating the Edge of the Empire: Continuity and Change in the Dead Sea Region during the Neo-Babylonian and Persian PeriodsAvraham Mashiach (Hebrew University of Jerusalem)                                                                                                                 |
| 11:05-11:30am                   | Hazor and the Hula Valley under Achaemenid Rule: Imperial Integration in Northern GalileeDéborá Sandhaus (Israel Antiquities Authority)                                                                                                                                                         |
| 11:30-11:55am                   | Horses and Empires: Revisiting the Deve Hüyük CemeteriesEmilie Nordhues (University of California, Los Angeles)                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| 11:55am-12:20pm                 | The Archaeology of Treason: In Search of the Private Village of Ptolemy son of ThraseasRoi Sabar (The Hebrew University of Jerusalem), Matthew J. Adams (The Center for the Mediterranean World)                                                                                                |
| 10:40am-12:45pm(CST) | 6B. Cultural Heritage: Preservation, Presentation, and Management II (Continental B) *Chair(s): Jessica R. Robkin, University of Central Florida; Nancy Serwint, Arizona State University; Barbara Anglitz, Independent Researcher                                                              |
| 10:40-11:05am                   | The Impact of Using Mesopotamian Sites as CemeteriesAhmed A. Khammas (State Board of Antiquities and Heritage, Iraq)                                                                                                                                                                            |
| 11:05-11:30am                   | Gaza Cultural Heritage ReportRannfrid I. Lasine Thelle (Wichita State University)                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| 11:30-11:55am                   | Building the Field: Heritage Conservation Capacity in Syria and the RegionHiba Alkhalaf (Research Fellow at the Carena Institute of Sustainable Archaeologies (CISA), Birkbeck, University of London.), Will Reynolds (ASOR)                                                                    |
| 11:55am-12:20pm                 | Institutionalizing Heritage Management on the Local Level: How Municipalities Can Become Long-Term Custodians of Cultural Heritage at the Local LevelAhmad H. AlAdamat (Umm El-Jimal Municipality)                                                                                              |

---

* Presentations in this session/workshop that draw on material from occupied territory and its contiguous waters as defined by customary international law have been reviewed by the Program Committee, in consultation with the presenters, to ensure alignment with ASOR's Policy on Professional Conduct, Section III.E.7. Further documentation can be provided by the Program Committee upon request (pc.chairs@asor.org).

- 10:40am–12:45pm (CST) 6C. Archaeology of Israel II (Continental C)
Chair(s): Zachary Thomas, Australian Catholic University; Charles Wilson, University of Chicago
- 10:40–11:05am To Be(-Egyptian) or Not to Be? Provenance Analysis of Calcite-Alabaster Objects from Tel Azekah
Jennifer Zimni-Gitler (German ProtCSTant Institute for Archaeology), Avner Ayalon (Geological Survey of Israel), Nadya Teutsch (Geological Survey of Israel), Tami Zilberman (Geological Survey of Israel), Keren Weiss-Sarusi (Geological Survey of Israel), Olga Berlin (Geological Survey of Israel), Sabine Kleiman (Tel Aviv University), Oded Lipschits (Tel Aviv University)
*Virtual
- 11:05–11:30am The Iron Age IIB-C Extramural Shrine at 'En Hazeva: An Updated Assessment of the Evidence
Doron Ben-Ami (Israel Antiquities Authority), Erin Darby (University of Tennessee)
- 11:30–11:55am The Cremation Cemetery at the Foot of Tel Hazor
Igor Kreimerman (The Hebrew University of Jerusalem)
- 11:55am–12:20pm The Northern Kingdom of Israel in the Iron Age IIB
Erin Hall (University of California, Los Angeles)
- 12:20–12:45pm Pollen Analysis of the Northwest Church Diakonikon at Hippos, Israel: A Comparative Study
Vy Cao (La Sierra University), Patrick Scott-Geyer (University of San Diego), Gabriella Perko (University of San Diego)
- 10:40am–12:45pm (CST) 6D. Archaeology and Biblical Studies II (Waldorf)
Chair(s): Stephen Cook, Virginia Theological Seminary; Alison Acker Gruseke, Williams College
- 10:40–11:05am Is the Psalmist "Like a Lion" in Psalm 22:17b? Images of Lions and Lion Hunting as a Possible Solution to An Old Crux
Jerome F. Creach (Pittsburgh Theological Seminary)
- 11:05–11:30am A New Interpretation of the Codex Hammurabi Relief in Light of Exodus 34:29, Part 2
Takayoshi Oshima (Northeast Normal University)
- 11:30–11:55am "As the Deer or Gazelle You Shall Eat It": Hunting and Feasting in Iconography and Biblical Law
Doren Snoek (University of St Andrews)
- 11:55am–12:20pm The Pit: Archaeology and Daniel 6
Stephen L. Cook (Virginia Theological Seminary)
- 12:20–12:45pm "And God Said" and "Proclaims Darius the King": The Persian Origins of the Priestly Cosmology in Genesis
John T. Strong (Missouri State University)
- 10:40am–12:45pm (CST) 6E. Computational Methods and Simulations in the Near Eastern Archaeology (Marquette)
Chair(s): Bülent Arıkan, Istanbul Technical University
- 10:40–11:05am The Assessment of Land Use Patterns and Landscape Evolution During the Early Bronze Age in Anatolia
Bulent Arıkan (Istanbul Technical University Eurasia Institute of Earth Sciences)
- 11:05–11:30am Shaping the Neolithic Landscape: Palaeoenvironmental Change and Early Settlements in the Marmara Region
Bedel E. Emre (Istanbul Technical University), Bülent Arıkan (Istanbul Technical University)
*Virtual
- 11:30–11:55am Beyond Collapse and Resilience: Modeling Agropastoral Production and Landscape Relations at Çatalhöyük East (9100–8100 BP)
Neriman Erdem (Istanbul Technical University)
* Virtual
- 11:55am–12:20pm A Genome-Wide History of the Ancient Near East: Evidence from the Levant and Mesopotamia
Ali Kesserwani (Emory University)
- 12:20–12:45pm Phylogenetics Applied to Ceramic Evolution: A Technological Approach
Michael Orellana (Andrews University)

- 10:40am–12:45pm (CST) 6F. Flipping the Script: Museum Reinterpretations in Practice (Workshop) (Williford A)
Chair(s): Kiersten Neumann, University of Chicago; Katherine Blanchard, Penn Museum
- 10:40–10:50am From Label to Ledger: Reassessing the Provenance of a Cult Bétyle
Nadine N. Panayot (American University of Beirut), Aimée Maha Bou Rizk (American University of Beirut)
- 10:50–11:00am Reconstructing a Middle Bronze Age Hoard through the ISAC Archives
Tasha Vorderstrasse (University of Chicago), Brian Muhs (University of Chicago)
- 11:00–11:10am Glazed Over: Assyrian Glazed-Brick Fragments and Archival Sleuthing in Chicago
Kiersten Neumann (University of Chicago)
- 11:10–11:20am The Demon Within (Storage): Newly Catalogued Lamashtu Amulets at the Penn Museum
Katherine E. "Katy" Blanchard (Penn Museum)
- 11:20–11:30am Between Two Disciplines: Al-Mina and the Ashmolean
Nancy Highcock (Ashmolean Museum, University of Oxford)
- 11:30–11:40am A Misabeled (and Misunderstood) "Horus Sarcophagus" in the Vanderbilt University Museum of Art
Rachel P. Kreiter (Vanderbilt University Museum of Art)
- 11:40–11:50am Written on Stone: Revealing Hidden Images and Inscriptions on Funerary Stelae from Terenouthis, Egypt
Caroline Roberts (Kelsey Museum of Archaeology), Chris Motz (Kelsey Museum of Archaeology)
- 11:50am–12:00pm An Amarna Glass Workshop at the Toledo Museum of Art
Anna Johnson (Toledo Museum of Art), Roko Rumora (The Fitzwilliam Museum, Cambridge University)
*Virtual
- 12:00–12:45pm Discussion
- 10:40am–12:45pm (CST) 6G. Archaeology of Rural Communities: Landscape Approaches II (Williford B)
Chair(s): Helena Roth, Humboldt University of Berlin
- 10:40–11:05am A Landscape of Resilience: Rural Communities, Mortuary Practice, and the 4.2 ka PB Climatic Event in the Intermediate Bronze Age South-Central Southern Levant
Helena Roth (Humboldt Universität zu Berlin)
- 11:05–11:30am Life and Death in the Early Bronze I Period: An Assessment of the Ritual Landscape in Wadi Jadid, Jordan
Grant Ginson (University of Toronto), Stanley Klassen (University of Toronto), Andrew J. Danielson (Harvard University), Debra Foran (Wilfrid Laurier University), Nadia Ben-Marzouk (Loyola Marymount University), Jody Bloom (Harvard University)
- 11:30–11:55am Landscape Perspectives of a Rurally Complex Site: The Early Bronze Age at Khirbat Iskandar
Suzanne Richard (Gannon University), Tucker Dearly (University of Toronto)
- 11:55am–12:20pm Landscape and Pastoralism in the Eastern Desert of Egypt
Laurel D. Hackley (University of Memphis)
- 10:40am–12:45pm (CST) 6H. Archaeology of Syria (Williford C)
Chair(s): Kathryn Grossman, North Carolina State University
- 10:40–11:05am Empowering Local Communities through Remote 3D Documentation Activities: A Case Study from Ain Dara Site
Sari Jammo (Nagoya University), Yoko Taniguchi (University of Tsukuba), Nobuya Watanabe (Chubu University), Ayumi Igarashi (Freelance Illustrator), Megumi Tashiro (University of Tsukuba), Naoko Hironaga (University of Tsukuba), Madoka Murakushi (Meiji University), Mariko Makino (Teikyo University)
*Virtual
- 11:05–11:30am Mid-Late Third Millennium Pottery Production in the Region of Tell Leilan: A Petrographic Perspective
Madeline M. Ouimet (University of Chicago)
- 11:30–11:55am Estimating the Agricultural Carrying Capacity of the Late Bronze Age Kingdom of Ugarit
Virginia Rufina Marquez-Pacheco (University of British Columbia)
- 11:55am–12:20pm Bronze Age Cranial Surgery at Ugarit: Evidence for Trephination in Bone and Myth
Talia Sankari (Institute for the Study of the Ancient World, New York University)

- 10:40am–12:45pm (CST) 6I. Theoretical and Anthropological Approaches to the Near East (Astoria)
Chair(s): Matthew Winter, University of Arizona
- 10:40–11:05am Ancient Egyptian Kingships: Re-Contextualizing Royal Power
Niv Allon (The Metropolitan Museum of Art), Luiza Osorio G. Silva (University of California, Irvine), Jessica Tomkins (Wofford College), Tara Prakash (College of Charleston), Jeffrey Newman (UCLA), Julia Troche (Missouri State University), Jonathan Winnerman (UCLA)
- 11:05–11:30am A Whole New World: Schismogenesis and the Emergence of the Early Bronze Age IA Southern Levant
Julian M. Hirsch (The Hebrew University of Jerusalem)
- 11:30–11:55am Towards an Epistemology of Ancient Egyptian Religion
Jordan Miller (Cornell University)
- 11:55am–12:20pm In Times of Crisis: The LH IIIC Collapse and Mycenaean Fortifications
Marie E. Gruver (The Pennsylvania State University)
- 10:40am–12:45pm (CST) 6J. Archaeology of Jordan II (Private Dining 2)
Chair(s): Monique Roddy, Walla Walla University; Craig Tyson, D'Youville University; and Stephanie Selover, University of Washington
- 10:40–11:05am Renewed Excavations in Busayra's Area A Monumental Building: The 2025 Season
Jordan Weitzel (University of Lethbridge), Shawn Babel (University of Lethbridge), Kevin McGeough (University of Lethbridge), Benjamin W. Porter (University of California, Berkeley)
- 11:05–11:30am Navigating the Northern Gulf of Aqaba: Tell el-Kheleifeh, Jazirat Fir'awn and Ezion-geber
Joseph A. Greene (Harvard University)
- 11:30–11:55am Mapping Continuity and Transition in Petra's Non-Monumental Funerary Features: Updates on Recent Fieldwork
Björn Anderson (University of Iowa), Jennifer Ramsay (SUNY Brockport)
- 11:55am–12:20pm Preliminary Results from the Spring 2026 Field Season at the Palace and Port at Kallirhoe ('Ain ez-Zara) on the Eastern Dead Sea Littoral
Holly Hughes (The American Center of Research), Aktham Oweidi (The American Center of Research)
- 12:20–12:45pm Preliminary Archaeobotanical Results from the Spring 2026 Field Season at the Palace and Port at Kallirhoe ('Ain ez-Zara) on the Eastern Dead Sea Littoral
China P. Shelton (The American Center of Research)
- 12:45–1:05pm Forensic Numismatics: A Multi-Tiered Scientific Approach for the Comparative Authentication of Ancient Coinage
Mohammad A. Rababah (Technische Universität Berlin)
- 2:00–4:05pm (CST) 7A. Urbanism and Politics in the Bronze and Iron Age Levant III (Continental A) ****
Chair(s): Omer Sergi, Tel Aviv University; Daniel Master, Wheaton College; Karen Covello-Paran, Israel Antiquities Authority
- 2:00–2:25pm Early Iron Age Jerusalem: Urbanism as a Mirror to State Formation
Omer Sergi (Tel Aviv University)
- 2:25–2:50pm Reconstructing Urbanism in Iron II–Hellenistic Jerusalem: Evidence from the Western Slope
Deirdre N. Fulton (Baylor University)
- 2:50–3:15pm "He Shall be Like a Tree Planted by Waters, Sending Forth its Roots by a Stream (Yuval)": The Urbanism of Jerusalem in Light of the Roots of Yuval Gadot's Research
Joe Uziel (Israel Antiquities Authority), Yiftah Shalev (Israel Antiquities Authority)
*Virtual
- 3:15–3:40pm Landscape Logic and the Family Tombs of Ancient Jerusalem
Andrea M. Berlin (Boston University)
- 3:40–4:05pm Continuity and Change: Notes on Jerusalem Urban Nature During the Early and Late Iron Age
Yuval Gadot (Tel-Aviv University)

---

* Presentations in this session/workshop that draw on material from occupied territory and its contiguous waters as defined by customary international law have been reviewed by the Program Committee, in consultation with the presenters, to ensure alignment with ASOR's Policy on Professional Conduct, Section III.E.7. Further documentation can be provided by the Program Committee upon request (pc.chairs@asor.org).

|                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
|----------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 2:00–4:05pm(CST) | 7B. Cultural Heritage: Preservation, Presentation, and Management III (Continental B)Chair(s): Jessica R. Robkin, University of Central Florida; Nancy Serwint, Arizona State University; Barbara Anglisz, Independent Researcher                |
| 2:00–2:25pm          | Empowering the Local Voice: a Community Based Archaeology Project at Tall Husban, JordanIsabel Srouer (Indiana University of Pennsylvania and Andrews University)                                                                         |
| 2:25–2:50pm          | The Town of Secrets – مدينة الأسرار : Heritage, Memory, and the Politics of Knowledge Production about the Past In Qalhat, OmanNora Al-Aati (University of Pennsylvania)                                                                  |
| 2:50–3:15pm          | Cultural Heritage Ethics and Archaeological Praxis After CosmopolitanismPaul Christians (Royal Commission for AlUla)                                                                                                                      |
| 3:15–3:40pm          | Heritage Preservation: Measuring the Effectiveness of Community Engagement in Two UNESCO World Heritage Sites in JordanJenna D. Morton (Umm Al-Jimāl Archaeological Project, ACOR, Harvard Extension School)                              |
| 2:00–4:05pm(CST) | 7C. Archaeology of Israel III (Continental C) *Chair(s): Zachary Thomas, Australian Catholic University; Charles Wilson, University of Chicago                                                                                                   |
| 2:00–2:25pm          | Storage Strategy in the North Southern Levant in the Iron Age I: A Perspective from PithoiAkane Morikawa (University of Tsukuba)                                                                                                          |
| 2:25–2:50pm          | The Iron Age Temple at Tel Dan Still Stands: A Response to a Recent Reinterpretation of Area T at Tel DanJonathan Greer (Grand Valley State University), Yifat Thareani (Hebrew Union College / NYU Tel Aviv)                             |
| 2:50–3:15pm          | Tel Manoah: A Rural Iron Age Site in the Western NegevEli Itkin (University of California, Los Angeles)                                                                                                                                   |
| 3:15–3:40pm          | “Archaeology of Restoration” in British Mandate Palestine: Archival Research, GIS Mapping and Post-Classical StratigraphyGiovanni Simeone (Sapienza University of Rome)                                                                   |
| 3:40–4:05pm          | Amorites, Elamites, and the Origin of Genesis 14Peter Feinman (Institute of History, Archaeology, and Education)                                                                                                                          |
| 2:00–4:05pm(CST) | 7D. Archaeology of Islamic Society I (Waldorf) *Chair(s): Ian W. N. Jones, New York University; Tasha Vorderstrasse, University of Chicago                                                                                                       |
| 2:00–2:25pm          | A Historical Overview on the Development of Water Infrastructure in JeddahOtto Bagi (University of Bonn)                                                                                                                                  |
| 2:25–2:50pm          | A Late Islamic Women’s Ribāṭ and its Social Context in Jeddah, Saudi ArabiaDan Socaciu (ArcheoConsultant), Alistair Dickey (ArcheoConsultant), Karol Juchniewicz (ArcheoConsultant, Institute of Mediterranean and Oriental Cultures PAS) |
| 2:50–3:15pm          | "Chariots of the Tide:" The Tantura B Shipwreck and the 9th-Century Maritime RevolutionJerome Hall (University of San Diego)                                                                                                              |
| 3:15–3:40pm          | Seismic Destruction and Social Transformation: A Typology of Human Responses to Earthquakes with Bet She’an as a Case StudySagi Freiman                                                                                                   |
| 2:00–4:05pm(CST) | 7E. Art Historical Approaches to the Near East I (Marquette) *Chair(s): Bianca Hand, University of California, Davis; Miriam Said, Tufts University                                                                                              |
| 2:00–2:25pm          | Originality and Tradition in the Synagogue Art of Dura EuroposMicah Larson (University of British Columbia)                                                                                                                               |
| 2:25–2:50pm          | “The Beloved Servant of Inshushniak”: Middle Elamite Continuities and Change in Religious Piety at Susa under the ŠutrukidsRachael Maxon (University of Iowa)                                                                             |

---

* Presentations in this session/workshop that draw on material from occupied territory and its contiguous waters as defined by customary international law have been reviewed by the Program Committee, in consultation with the presenters, to ensure alignment with ASOR’s Policy on Professional Conduct, Section III.E.7. Further documentation can be provided by the Program Committee upon request (pc.chairs@asor.org).

|                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
|-----------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 2:50–3:15pm                 | Figurines and Representational Change in the Early Bronze Age Southern LevantShira Albaz (Bar-Ilan University), Nicole Callaway (Haifa University)                                                                                                                                                                        |
| 3:15–3:40pm                 | ‘With the king’s permission’: Tradition and Innovation within Apotropaic Figurine Deposits at NimrudGlynnis Maynard (University of Cambridge)                                                                                                                                                                             |
| 2:00–4:05pm(CST) | 7F. Dwelling in Past: Scales of Settlement, Time, and Society in Anatolia II (Williford A)Chair(s): N. İlgi Gerçek, Bilkent University; Müge Durusu-Tanrıöver, Temple University                                                                                                                                          |
| 2:00–2:25pm                 | Toprakkale 1 Höyük and the Iron Age Settlement Landscape of Central AnatoliaÇağlayan Bal (University of Chicago)                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| 2:25–2:50pm                 | Urban Wilderness at Herakleia under Latmos (Türkiye)Marta Doglio (Brown University)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| 2:50–3:15pm                 | Mountain Urbanism in the Anatolian Highlands: An Alternative Form of City Building and Dwelling in the Iron AgePeri Johnson (University of Illinois Chicago), Ömür Harmanşah (University of Illinois Chicago), Elizabeth Baughan (University of Richmond), Julia M. Koch (German Archaeological Institute [DAI] Istanbul) |
| 3:15–3:40pm                 | The Role of Building Orientation on Social Order at Ancient KerkenesAtakan Atabas (University of Central Florida)                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| 2:00–4:05pm(CST) | 7G. Ancient Inscriptions I (Williford B)Chair(s): Andrew Burlingame, Wheaton College; Jana Matuszak, University of Chicago                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| 2:00–2:25pm                 | Aspects of Materiality in the Linear B Tablets from Pylos and Mycenae: Examination and ExperimentationJohn Evrenopoulos (Independent Researcher)*Virtual                                                                                                                                                              |
| 2:25–2:50pm                 | The Earliest Alphabetic Writing? An Updated Assessment of the Umm el-Marra Cylinders in Relation to the Egyptian Scripts and Their Potential Significance for Egypto-Levantine Interaction during the Late Third Millennium BCENadia Ben-Marzouk (Loyola Marymount University)                                            |
| 2:50–3:15pm                 | Abecedaries in a Literary Context on Tablets from UgaritDavid Hamidovic (University of Lausanne)                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| 3:15–3:40pm                 | An Inscribed Ivory from Ugarit and the Battle of QadeshTheodore J. "Ted" Lewis (Johns Hopkins University)                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| 3:40–4:05pm                 | Has the Name of Mesha’ Been Discovered at Ataruz?Aaron Schade (Brigham Young University), Chang-Ho Ji (La Sierra University)                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| 2:00–4:05pm(CST) | 7H. The Region of Aqaba in La Longue Durée (Workshop) (Williford C)Chair(s): Joseph A. Greene, Harvard University; Erin Darby, University of Tennessee-Knoxville                                                                                                                                                          |
| 2:00–2:10pm                 | La longue durée in the Region of Aqaba: A Short OverviewJoseph A. Greene (Harvard University)                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| 2:10–2:20pm                 | Pot-Marks from Tell el-Kheleifeh: A Typological and Comparative Study in the Iron Age Southern LevantMiguel Correa (Harvard University), Jody Bloom (Harvard University)                                                                                                                                                  |
| 2:20–2:30pm                 | Command and Control in the Wadi al-Yutm in the Classical PeriodCraig A. Harvey (University of Alberta)* Virtual                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| 2:30–2:40pm                 | The ALIA-AI ProjectAndrew M. Smith II (The George Washington University)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| 2:40–2:50pm                 | The Kheleifeh Digitization Project and the Longue Durée of Archaeological PublishingErin Darby (University of Tennessee), Gabrielle Puckett (University of Tennessee)                                                                                                                                                     |
| 2:50–4:05pm                 | Discussion                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |

|                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
|----------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 2:00–4:05pm(CST) | 7I. Archaeology of Lebanon (Astoria)Chair(s): Hanan Charaf, Lebanese University; Nadine Panayot, American University of Beirut; Helen Dixon, East Carolina University                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| 2:00–2:25pm          | Chalcolithic Ceramic Traditions of the Central Levantine Highlands: An Integrated Archaeometric Study of Mid-5th Millennium BCE Pottery from Akkar, LebanonEmilia Jastrzębska (Institute of Mediterranean and Oriental Cultures, Polish Academy of Sciences)                                                                                     |
| 2:25–2:50pm          | Byblos and Its World: Mapping Networks and Sociocultural Landscapes in the Late Bronze Age Northern LevantMarwan Kilani (University of Basel)                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| 2:50–3:15pm          | Reflections of Phoenician Afterlives? Hand Mirrors from First Millennium BCE Sidonian BurialsHelen M. Dixon (East Carolina University)                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| 3:15–3:40pm          | Death, the Transfigured Body, and Personhood at Roman Baalbek-Heliopolis: A Shimmering Spectacle in the City of the SunNicholas Aherne (University of Groningen)                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| 2:00–4:05pm(CST) | 7J. Archaeology of Cyprus I (Private Dining 2)Chair(s): Kevin Fisher, University of British Columbia; Catherine Kearns, University of Chicago                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| 2:00–2:25pm          | The Prehistoric Cemetery at Makounta-Voules-Mersinoudia: Excavations in 2025-2026Kathryn Grossman (North Carolina State University), Tate Paulette (North Carolina State University), Lisa Graham (College of Southern Nevada), Andrew McCarthy (University of Edinburgh)                                                                        |
| 2:25–2:50pm          | Recent Work at Bronze Age Kissonerga-SkaliaLindy Crewe (CAARI)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| 2:50–3:15pm          | Kalavassos and Maroni Built Environments Project: Updates 2026Sturt W. Manning (Cornell University), Kevin Fisher (University of British Columbia)                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| 3:15–3:40pm          | Getting the Cypro-Minoan Corpus Online (GeCCO)Cassandra Donnelly                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| 3:40–4:05pm          | Landscape Archaeology in the Rural Hinterland of Kourion: A New Project in ProgressMonika Rekowska (University of Warsaw), Anna Kordas (University of Warsaw), Demetrios Michaelides (University of Cyprus, Cyprus Academy of Sciences, Letters and Arts), Szymon Popławski (Independent Researcher), Maksym Mackiewicz (Independent Researcher) |
| 4:25–6:30pm(CST) | 8A. Recent Work in the Archaeological Sciences (Continental A)Chair(s): Alyssa V. Pietraszek, University of Haifa; Hannah M. Herrick; Simon Fraser University                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| 4:25–4:50pm          | The Role of Metals in Urban Reemergence along the Middle Bronze I Levantine Coast: New Elemental and Lead Isotope EvidenceDaniel Finn-Kandel (The Hebrew University of Jerusalem)                                                                                                                                                                |
| 4:50–5:15pm          | Let the Floors Speak: Microarchaeological Evidence for Spatial Organization in a Neolithic Storage Room at Aşıklı HöyükFatma Kalkan (Koç University), Rana Özbal (Koç University), Carla Lancelotti (Universitat Pompeu Fabra, Catalan Institution for Research and Advanced Studies (ICREA))*Virtual                                        |
| 5:15–5:40pm          | Increasing the Regional Comparability of Dung Spherulite Analysis in Western AsiaEllie Stankiewicz (Utah State University), Elise J. Laugier (Utah State University)                                                                                                                                                                             |
| 5:40–6:05pm          | Cryptic Tsunami Signatures in Archaeological Contexts: Discoveries and ChallengesBeverly N. Goodman Tchernov (University of Haifa, Charney School of Marine Sciences, Department of Marine Geosciences, Zinman Institute of Archaeology)                                                                                                         |
| 4:25–6:30pm(CST) | 8B. Gardens of the Mediterranean, the Ancient Near East, and Beyond (Continental B) *Chair(s): Rona Shani Evyasaf, Technion Israel                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| 4:25–4:50pm          | Archaeological Evidence for Desert Water Harvesting Techniques in the Mughal/Rajput gardens of the Ahhichatragarh Fortress Palace, Nagaur, Rajasthan, IndiaKathryn Gleason (Cornell University), David Lentz (University of Cincinnati)                                                                                                          |

* Presentations in this session/workshop that draw on material from occupied territory and its contiguous waters as defined by customary international law have been reviewed by the Program Committee, in consultation with the presenters, to ensure alignment with ASOR's Policy on Professional Conduct, Section III.E.7. Further documentation can be provided by the Program Committee upon request (pc.chairs@asor.org).

|                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
|----------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 4:50–5:15pm          | Epigraphical Gardens in Early South AsiaDivya Kumar-Dumas (University of Maryland)                                                                                                                                              |
| 5:15–5:40pm          | Reconstructing the Invisible: Methodological Challenges and Opportunities in the Archaeology of the ShanglinyuanLi Bai (Cornell University)                                                                                     |
| 5:40–6:05pm          | Plants of Eternity: The Comparison between Botanical Reality and Symbolic Representation in Ancient Egyptian Tomb GardensFilipa Simal (Faculdade de  Arquitectura da Universidade do Porto)                                     |
| 6:05–6:30pm          | Ars topiaria: Methodologies from the Modern Discipline of Landscape Architecture and Their Application to the Archaeology of Monumental Ancient GardensRona S. Evyasaf (Technion Israel)                                        |
| 4:25–6:30pm(CST) | 8C. Use and Reuse of Tombs in the Theban Necropolis (Continental C)Chair(s): Lauren Dogaer, University College Oxford                                                                                                           |
| 4:25–4:50pm          | Dwelling with the Dead: The "Domestic Deathscape" of Graeco-Roman Deir el-MedinaLivia Hoffman (The University of Pennsylvania)                                                                                                  |
| 4:50–5:15pm          | Interpreting the territory of Sheikh Abd el-Qurna: the uses of Landscape Archaeology in the Theban necropolis (Luxor, Egypt)Angeles "Angie" Jimenez-Higueras (University of Granada)*Virtual                                |
| 5:15–5:40pm          | Recycling the Afterlife: Romb (Re)use and Religious Developments in the Necropoleis of Mentuhotep II at Asasif and Deir el-BahariAntonio J. Morales (University of Alcalá)*Virtual                                          |
| 5:40–6:05pm          | Theban Tomb 16 and the Landscape Legacy of Amenhotep I's CultSuzanne Onstine (University of Memphis)                                                                                                                            |
| 6:05–6:30pm          | Whose Tomb is This? New Kingdom Tomb Reuse as a Statement of BelongingJJ Shirley (Journal of Egyptian History; Research Associate and Bryn Mawr College)                                                                        |
| 4:25–6:30pm(CST) | 8D. Archaeology of Islamic Society II (Waldorf)Chair(s): Ian W. N. Jones, New York University; Tasha Vorderstrasse, University of Chicago                                                                                       |
| 4:25–4:50pm          | Daily Life in a Medieval Alquería: The Menorca Archaeological Project's 2024-2026 Seasons at Torre d'en Galmés, SpainAlexander Smith (SUNY Brockport), Amalia Pérez-Juez (Boston University)                             |
| 4:50–5:15pm          | Early Islamic Tell Brak: A Reassessment of the Abbasid OccupationFernando Casamayor Molina (Harvard University), Jason Ur (Harvard University)                                                                           |
| 5:15–5:40pm          | The Coarse Wares of Ayyubid Hisban: New Evidence from the Rural Remodeling of a Byzantine VillaBethany J. Walker (University of Bonn)                                                                                           |
| 5:40–6:05pm          | Sphero-Conical Vessels Reconsidered: Interpretations and RealitiesJeffrey Cumonow (Bryn Mawr College)                                                                                                                           |
| 6:05–6:30pm          | Between the Sultan's Court and the Rural Kitchen in the Levant: Study of Nutrition and Kitchen Traditions in the Mamluk Period Based on Ceramic Records and Culinary ArchaeologyShurouq Munzer (University of Bonn)*Virtual |
| 4:25–6:30pm(CST) | 8E. Art Historical Approaches to the Near East II (Marquette) *Chair(s): Bianca Hand, University of California, Davis; Miriam Said, Tufts University                                                                            |
| 4:25–4:50pm          | The Contexts of Greek Sculpture in Graeco-Roman Art-historical Writing about the Near EastKristen Seaman (University of Oregon)*Virtual                                                                                     |

---

* Presentations in this session/workshop that draw on material from occupied territory and its contiguous waters as defined by customary international law have been reviewed by the Program Committee, in consultation with the presenters, to ensure alignment with ASOR's Policy on Professional Conduct, Section III.E.7. Further documentation can be provided by the Program Committee upon request (pc.chairs@asor.org).

|                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
|-----------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 4:50–5:15pm                 | Threads of Influence: Neo-Assyrian Textile Motifs in Greek PotteryAlexa O'Day (University of Iowa)                                                                                                                                         |
| 5:15–5:40pm                 | Encountering Visually Elusive Garment Imagery in the Northwest Palace SculptureAvary R. Taylor (Yale University)                                                                                                                           |
| 5:40–6:05pm                 | Ornament as Evidence: Reconstructing the Mosaic Industry of the Near EastAna Silkatcheva (University of Oxford)                                                                                                                            |
| 4:25–6:30pm(CST) | 8F. Dwelling in Past: Scales of Settlement, Time, and Society in Anatolia III (Williford A)Chair(s): N. İlgi Gerçek, Bilkent University; Müge Durusu-Tanrıöver, Temple University                                                          |
| 4:25–4:50pm                 | Adaptive Settlement Patterns in the Pre-Roman and Roman CiliciaCem Almurat (Bryn Mawr College)                                                                                                                                             |
| 4:50–5:15pm                 | When the Port Lit Up: Railways, Gasworks, and the Making of Night in Modernizing IzmirElvan Cobb (Hong Kong Baptist University)*Virtual                                                                                                |
| 5:15–5:40pm                 | Adapted Eclecticism: Italians in the History of Late Ottoman-Egyptian ArchitectureRyan J. Mitchell (Temple University, Tyler School of Art and Architecture)                                                                               |
| 5:40–6:05pm                 | Making Islam(ic) Heritage: Urban Encounters Between People, Stories, and Landscapes in 20th Century EyüpTimur Hammond (Syracuse University)*Virtual                                                                                    |
| 4:25–6:30pm(CST) | 8G. Ancient Inscriptions II (Williford B)Chair(s): Andrew Burlingame, Wheaton College; Jana Matuszak, University of Chicago                                                                                                                |
| 4:25–4:50pm                 | Preliminary Observations on New Epigraphic Discoveries at Tell Atchana (Alalakh): Cuneiform Tablets from the 2025 ExcavationsZeynep Türker (Johns Hopkins University), Jacob Lauinger (Johns Hopkins University)                           |
| 4:50–5:15pm                 | News from the Archives – An Update on the Work on Old Babylonian LettersNicholas Reid (RTS Orlando), Klaus Wagensonner (Yale University)                                                                                                   |
| 5:15–5:40pm                 | Fragments of Hammurabis CodeHanan Hamza (Ministry of Culture, Tourism, and Antiquities; State Board of Antiquities and Heritage, Iraq)                                                                                                     |
| 5:40–6:05pm                 | Ashurbanipal's Royal Inscriptions and the Beginnings of Biblical HistoriographyNikita Artemov (Ruhr University Bochum)*Virtual                                                                                                         |
| 4:25–6:30pm(CST) | 8H. The Sampling Trilemma: Balancing Conservation, Curation, and Research (Workshop) (Williford C) *Chair(s): Anna Eirich, Israel Antiquities Authority; Adrienne Ganor, Israel Antiquities Authority; Erez Ben-Yosef, Tel Aviv University |
| 4:25–4:35pm                 | Why Adding Destructive Sampling to Artifacts' Biographies Should Be EncouragedErez Ben-Yosef (Tel Aviv University)                                                                                                                         |
| 4:35–4:45pm                 | Cutting into the Past: Curatorial Perspectives on Sampling Objects of Museological ValueDebora Ben-Ami (Israel Antiquities Authority), Anna Eirikh Rose (Israel Antiquities Authority)                                                     |
| 4:45–4:55pm                 | Sampling Archaeological Artifacts: Let's Talk About It and Reduce Tensions Between Researchers, Curators and ConservatorsAdrienne Ganor (Israel Antiquities Authority)                                                                     |
| 4:55–5:05pm                 | Sampling Strategies for Mandate-Period Legacy and Museum CollectionsMelissa S. Cradic (Bade Museum of Archaeology, Pacific School of Religion; University at Albany, SUNY; Alexandria Archive Institute/Open Context)                      |
| 5:05–5:15pm                 | Balancing Preservation and Research Potential when Considering Destructive Sampling for Accessioned Collections: Ethical Considerations and Policy Guidance from a Professional ConservatorSuzanne L. Davis (University of Michigan)       |

---

* Presentations in this session/workshop that draw on material from occupied territory and its contiguous waters as defined by customary international law have been reviewed by the Program Committee, in consultation with the presenters, to ensure alignment with ASOR's Policy on Professional Conduct, Section III.E.7. Further documentation can be provided by the Program Committee upon request (pc.chairs@asor.org).

|                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
|-----------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 5:15–6:30pm                 | Discussion                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| 4:25–6:30pm(CST) | 8I. History of Archaeology I (Astoria) *Chair(s): Leticia R. Rodriguez, University of Houston; Caitlin Clerkin, Harvard Art Museums                                                                                              |
| 4:25–4:50pm                 | Excavating the MFA Egyptian Expedition ArchivesBrooke E. Norton (MFA Boston & Bade Museum)                                                                                                                                       |
| 4:50–5:15pm                 | Labor, Precarity, and the Archaeological ArchiveKathleen Garland (Harvard University)                                                                                                                                            |
| 5:15–5:40pm                 | “Said to Be from Antinoë”: Provenance, Dispersal, and the Colonial Afterlives of ExcavationLisette M. Jiménez (San Francisco State University)                                                                                   |
| 4:25–6:30pm(CST) | 8J. Archaeology of Cyprus II (Private Dining 2) *Chair(s): Kevin Fisher, University of British Columbia; Catherine Kearns, University of Chicago                                                                                 |
| 4:25–4:50pm                 | Still Looking for those Cypriot Neandertals!Alan Simmons (University of Nevada, Las Vegas/Desert Research Institute, Reno)                                                                                                       |
| 4:50–5:15pm                 | Lithic Landscapes: Coastal and Mountain Occupations in Cyprus’ Hunter-Gatherer PastDanielle Macdonald (The University of Tulsa), Lisa Maher (University of California, Berkeley), Bri Jones (University of California, Berkeley) |
| 5:15–5:40pm                 | Shaping Power: Water Management and Access in Late Bronze Age CyprusMadeline Topor (University of British Columbia)                                                                                                              |
| 5:40–6:05pm                 | Masons’ Marks and the Organization of Local Stone Construction in Greco-Roman CyprusAnna Kordas (University of Warsaw)                                                                                                           |
| 6:05–6:30pm                 | Cyprus, Mercenaries, and pre-Hellenistic Egyptian Coinage: Reconsidering a “Kition” Bronze IssueThomas Landvatter (Reed College)                                                                                                 |

---

* Presentations in this session/workshop that draw on material from occupied territory and its contiguous waters as defined by customary international law have been reviewed by the Program Committee, in consultation with the presenters, to ensure alignment with ASOR’s Policy on Professional Conduct, Section III.E.7. Further documentation can be provided by the Program Committee upon request (pc.chairs@asor.org).

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 2026

- 8:15–10:20am (CST) 9A. Africa in the Ancient World I (Continental A)
Chair(s): Brenda J. Baker, Arizona State University; Michele R. Buzon, Purdue University
- 8:15–8:40am Archaeology and Community Building in Wartime (and After): Community Engagement around Jebel Barkal, Sudan 2023–2026
Sami M. Elamin (National Corporation for Antiquities and Museums, Sudan), Geoff Emberling (Kelsey Museum of Archaeology, University of Michigan), Anawar Mohamed (Department of Anthropology, Purdue University)
*Virtual
- 8:40–9:05am Living Heritage and the Archaeology of Identity: Community, Memory, and Continuity in Northern Sudan
Jenail Marshall (William Leo Hansberry Society)
- 9:05–9:30am My Journey to Nobiin: The Language of Nubia
Rosetta Cash (William Leo Hansberry Society)
- 9:30–9:55am Communicating Identity through Body Modification in the Nile Valley
Anne Austin (University of Missouri - St. Louis)
- 8:15–10:20am (CST) 9B. Archaeology of Arabia I (Continental B)
Chair(s): Jennifer Swerida, University of Pennsylvania
- 8:15–8:40am Reimagining the Neolithic of Southeast Arabia: Results from the Second Season of the HERDS Project in Al Khashbah, Oman
Lucas Proctor (Dartmouth College), Maria Pia Maiorano (Czech Academy of Sciences), Jakez Moreau (Paul Valery University of Montpellier), Fadhiyah Abu Ghriegannah (University of Brno), Joseph Harris (University of Chicago), Rayyan Al Kiyumi (Bait Al Zubair Museum), Elena Maini (Sapienza University of Rome), William Maughan (Utah State University), Paige Paulsen (Dartmouth College), Brooklyn Warner (Utah State University)
- 8:40–9:05am In the Heat of the Night: Thermal Imaging Reveals Extensive Subsurface Features at Neolithic Al Khashbah, Oman
Paige Paulsen (Dartmouth College), Lucas Proctor (Dartmouth College), Joseph Harris (University of Chicago), Wajid Al Zakwani (Sultan Qaboos University), Rayyan Al Kiyumi (Bait Al Zubair Museum), Jakez Moreau (Paul Valery University of Montpellier), Maria Pia Maiorano (Czech Academy of Sciences)
- 9:05–9:30am The Archaeological Landscape of Jabal Tadhra': Exploring Northwest Arabia's Volcanic Hinterland
Jacob Dunn (Independent Researcher)
- 9:30–9:55am Intermittent Wetlands in Bronze Age northwest Oman?: A Case Study from Rakhat al-Madrh
Jennifer L. Swerida (University of Leiden), Eli Dollarhide (New York University Abu Dhabi), Aleksandre Prosperini (Sorbonne University), Alessandra Dominguez (University of Pennsylvania), Eric Fouache (Sorbonne University), Claude Cosandey (Sorbonne University), Tara Beuzen-Waller (University of Perpignan Via Domitia), Max Engels (Heidelberg University), Laurence le Callonnec (Sorbonne University), Robert Bryant (University of Pennsylvania)
- 9:55–10:20am Preliminary Report on Three Seasons of Archaeobotanical Investigation from Bat, Oman
Alessandra Dominguez (University of Pennsylvania)
- 8:15–10:20am (CST) 9C. The LCP Handbook Series: Eastern Sigillata A (ESA) (Continental C) ***
Chair(s): Andrea Berlin, Boston University; Nicole Constantine, Stanford University
- 8:15–8:40am Eastern Sigillata A in Hellenistic Time and Space
Peter Stone (Carleton College)
- 8:40–9:05am Eastern Sigillata A and the late Seleucid Empire
Boris Chrubasik (University of Toronto)
- 9:05–9:30am ESA at Sea: Two 1st century BCE Shipwrecks and their Sigillata Pottery
Nicole N. Constantine (Stanford University)
- 9:30–9:55am The Last Supper: ESA on the Eve of Antioch's 115 Earthquake
Andrea M. Berlin (Boston University)

* Presentations in this session/workshop that draw on material from occupied territory and its contiguous waters as defined by customary international law have been reviewed by the Program Committee, in consultation with the presenters, to ensure alignment with ASOR's Policy on Professional Conduct, Section III.E.7. Further documentation can be provided by the Program Committee upon request (pc.chairs@asor.org).

|                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
|------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 9:55-10:20am                 | Industry Interrupted?: ESA after the EarthquakeBrigitte Keslinke (Bowdoin College)                                                                                                                                                                       |
| 8:15–10:20am(CST) | 9D. Intangible Cultural Heritage: Bridging the Past and the Present I (Waldorf)Chair(s): Yaroub Al Obaidi, Duquesne University; Jessica R. Robkin, University of Central Florida                                                                         |
| 8:15-8:40am                  | A Living Archive: The Hurufiya Movement and the Preservation of Arabic Visual LanguageEmma Laraby (Independent Researcher)*Virtual                                                                                                                   |
| 8:40-9:05am                  | China's Archaeology in the Middle East and the Emergence of New Grand Historical NarrativesChristian Langer (The University of Georgia)                                                                                                                  |
| 9:05-9:30am                  | Between Memory and Place: Oral Narratives and the Intangible Heritage of Baghdad's Historic HousesBashar S. Al Khafaji (University of Technology - IRAQ), Dhirgham Alobaydi (Al-Bayan Univerity - Iraq)                                                  |
| 9:30-9:55am                  | The Future of the Past: Using AI to Document AlUla's Historical Narrative MemoryAljohara Almudarra (The Royal Commission for AlUla), Lobna Mustafa (Master Expert, ICON Spaces Laboratory, Riyadh)                                                       |
| 9:55-10:20am                 | Fish, Foodways, and Visual Culture in Southern Mesopotamia: Aquatic Consumption and Iconography in the Floodplain CivilizationYaseen Wami (University Of Basrah)                                                                                         |
| 8:15–10:20am(CST) | 9E. Archaeology of the Near East: Bronze and Iron Ages I (Marquette)Chair(s): J. P. Dessel, University of Tennessee                                                                                                                                      |
| 8:15-8:40am                  | Fit for a King? Cylinder Seals of the Uluburun ShipwreckKatie Batagianis (Emerging scholar), Gonen Sharon (Tel-Hai University of Kiryat Shemona and the Galilee)                                                                                         |
| 8:40-9:05am                  | Living Like an Egyptian: A Preliminary Examination of Recent Small Finds at Khirbat SafraRobert D. Bates (Institute of Archaeology, Andrews University)                                                                                                  |
| 9:05-9:30am                  | Yotvata Fortress in Its Semi-Nomadic Edomite Context: A Reassessment in Light of Recent ExcavationsErez Ben-Yosef (Tel Aviv University), Mark Cavanagh (Tel Aviv University), Willie Ondricek (Tel Aviv University), Yotam Asscher (University of Haifa) |
| 9:30-9:55am                  | Dolmen Orientation: Case Study from the Upper Galilee Megalithic SurveyUri Berger (Israel Antiquity Authority and Ben Gurion University of the Negev)                                                                                                    |
| 9:55-10:20am                 | Highland Transitions in Iron Age West Jordan: Communities, Landscapes, and Political ChangeAndrew J. Danielson (Harvard University)                                                                                                                      |
| 8:15–10:20am(CST) | 9F. Approaches to Dress and the Body (Williford A) *Chair(s): Krystal Pierce, Brigham Young University; Sarah Costello, University of Houston – Clear Lake                                                                                               |
| 8:15-8:40am                  | The Cap Crown of Nefertiti: Material, Design, and Sensory ExperienceSu Jackson (The University of North Texas)                                                                                                                                           |
| 8:40-9:05am                  | Unrealized Fertility in the Fayum: A Study of Social Performance and Bead DepositionCheyenne Strickland (Florida State University)                                                                                                                       |
| 9:05-9:30am                  | Dressed for Access: The Stately Female Captives in the Throneroom of the Northwest PalaceMegan Cifarelli (Manhattanville University)                                                                                                                     |
| 9:30-9:55am                  | Embroideries as Cross-Referential Media: The Garments Depicted in Ashurnasirpal II's Northwest Palace ReliefsYu Song (New York University)                                                                                                               |
| 9:55-10:20am                 | Analyzing the Feet/Footwear of the Greek Korai as Sites of Information about Ancient Greek WomenRachel Polinsky (Adjunct Professor at Hartwick College and SUNY Oneonta)                                                                                 |

---

* Presentations in this session/workshop that draw on material from occupied territory and its contiguous waters as defined by customary international law have been reviewed by the Program Committee, in consultation with the presenters, to ensure alignment with ASOR's Policy on Professional Conduct, Section III.E.7. Further documentation can be provided by the Program Committee upon request (pc.chairs@asor.org).

|                       |                                                                                                                                                                                               |
|-----------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 8:15–10:20am(CST) | 9G. Ancient Inscriptions III (Williford B)Chair(s): Andrew Burlingame, Wheaton College; Jana Matuszak, University of Chicago                                                       |
| 8:15-8:40am           | Double the Trouble? Double the Fun! Bi-scriptorial Stelae from Ptolemaic MemphisLingxin Zhang (Georgetown University)                                                       |
| 8:40-9:05am           | The Celestial Scorpion: A Renegade Constellation in Early MesopotamiaNicholas M. Gill (The University of Chicago)                                                           |
| 9:05-9:30am           | “He Sows Seashells”? A Reexamination of Sumerian subī (šuba) in Love Songs and Other ContextsAnna Glenn (Harvard University)                                                |
| 9:30-9:55am           | The Identity Breakthrough of the Last En-Priestess of Nanna in 18th-Century BCE MesopotamiaJingying Dong (Fudan University)*Virtual                                     |
| 9:55-10:20am          | Beyond Nippur: Two Unpublished Lexical Tablets from Old Babylonian MeturanGrégoire Nicolet (musée du Louvre)                                                                |
| 8:15–10:20am(CST) | 9H. Towards a Working Ancient Economy I (Williford C)Chair(s): Andrew Deloucas, Harvard University; Taha Yurttas, Harvard University; Eric Aupperle, Harvard University            |
| 8:15-8:40am           | Babylonian Fiscal HistoryEric Aupperle (Harvard University)                                                                                                                 |
| 8:40-9:05am           | Palatial Management of Mobility and Resources: Economic Dimensions of Foreign Presence in 24th-Century BCE EblaFiammetta Gori (ISAW (NYU))                                  |
| 9:05-9:30am           | Work Patterns in Ur III Accounts from Umma and GirsuAndrew Pottorf (University of Cambridge)*Virtual                                                                    |
| 9:30-9:55am           | Fragility, Contagion, and the Late Bronze Age CollapseKenneth Ahern (University of Southern California)                                                                     |
| 9:55-10:20am          | Agricultural Sustainability and Imperial Collapse in Assyria: Modeling the Economy to Understand Mitigation StrategiesOfelia Tychon (University College London)*Virtual |
| 8:15–10:20am(CST) | 9I. History of Archaeology II (Astoria)Chair(s): Leticia R. Rodriguez, University of Houston; Caitlin Clerkin, Harvard Art Museums                                                 |
| 8:15-8:40am           | Archibald Henry Sayce and the Shift to Racial Theory in Victorian Biblical ArchaeologyPeter Rohrbacher (Austrian Academy of Sciences)*Virtual                           |
| 8:40-9:05am           | From Orientalistik to “Near Eastern Studies” German-American Correspondence in the ISAC Archives, 1933-1945Grace E. Clements (Harvard University)                           |
| 9:05-9:30am           | Conserving the Past: Archaeological Policy and Heritage Management under the British Mandate in PalestineShelley-Anne Peleg (University of Haifa)                           |
| 9:30-9:55am           | From Display to Discipline: The Search for Alexander Travel Exhibition as a Catalyst for Archaeological KnowledgeYusi Liu (Bryn Mawr College)                               |

- 10:40am-12:45pm (CST) 10A. Africa in the Ancient World II (Continental A)
Chair(s): Brenda J. Baker, Arizona State University; Michele R. Buzon, Purdue University
- 10:40-11:05am Embodied Identity at Ancient Kerma: Population Affinity, Physiological Stress, and Social Differentiation in the Kerma Necropolis (1750-1550 BCE)
Sarah Schrader (Leiden University), Katilyn Sanders (Peabody Museum, Yale University), Rachael Hall (Leiden University), Aida Tadesse (Leiden University), Michele Buzon (Purdue University)
*Virtual
- 11:05-11:30am The Price of Pastoralism: Brucellosis in Ancient Nubian Societies (3000-1077 BCE)
Rachael Hall (Laboratory for Human Osteoarchaeology, Faculty of Archaeology, Leiden University), Aida Tadesse (Leiden University), Gretchen Zoeller (University of Pittsburgh), Michele Buzon (Purdue University), Stuart Tyson Smith (University of California, Santa Barbara), Sarah Schrader (Leiden University)
- 11:30-11:55am Identity, Activity, and Community at Tombos: Analysis of Vertebral Conditions
Roselyn A. Campbell (Purdue University), Michele Buzon (Purdue University), Ruhaan Bajpai (Purdue University)
- 11:55am-12:20pm Kidding around in Ancient Egypt and Nubia: Incorporating Preadults into a Community Perspective
Brenda Baker (Arizona State University), Mindy Pitre (St. Lawrence University), Madeleine Mant (University of Toronto Mississauga)
- 10:40am-12:45pm (CST) 10B. Archaeology of Arabia II (Continental B)
Chair(s): Jennifer Swerida, University of Pennsylvania
- 10:40-11:05am Indus Pottery from HD1, Oman: A Comparative Analysis with Sites in Oman and the Indus Region, 2800-1900 BCE
Jonathan Mark M. Kenoyer (University of Wisconsin, Madison), Maurizio Cattani (University of Bologna, Italy), Dennys Frensz (University of Bologna, Italy)
- 11:05-11:30am Silver Ornament Technology in Oman and the Indus Valley Regions during the 3rd millennium BCE: Stylistic and Technological Comparisons
Lucas Wirick (University of Wisconsin-Madison), Randall W. Law (University of Wisconsin-Madison), Dennys Frensz (University of Bologna, Italy), Kimberly Williams (Temple University), Jonathan Mark Kenoyer (University of Wisconsin-Madison)
- 11:30-11:55am New Perspectives on Trade, Technology, and Geological Sourcing in Early Iron Age Yemen: Reassessing the Stone Beads of Hajar ar-Rayhani in the Wadi al-Jubah
Geoffrey E. Ludvik (Holy Apostles College and Seminary), Jonathan Mark Kenoyer (University of Wisconsin-Madison), Randall W. Law (University of Wisconsin-Madison)
- 11:55am-12:20pm The Thaj Mask and Mycenaean Masks: Connectivity, Symbolic Meanings, and Cultural Interaction in the Ancient World
Raghad Alqahtani (Royal Commission for Alula)
- 12:20-12:45pm Frankincense Trade Networks in the Hellenistic and Roman Red Seas
Michelle Heeman (Stanford University)
- 10:40am-12:45pm (CST) 10C. Ancient Mesopotamia – A Social History. Methods for Reconstructing Lived Worlds I (Continental C)
Chair(s): Steven Garfinkle, Western Washington University; Jana Mynářová, Charles University
- 10:40-11:05am Across the Archive: Reconstructing Debt Relations and Default in Old Assyrian Trade
Taha Yurttas (Harvard University)
- 11:05-11:30am Actors behind Agency: Chasing Identities in Real Estate Texts from Eshnunna (Tell Asmar)
Clemens D. Reichel (University of Toronto)
- 11:30-11:55am Palatial Lives: A Social-Historical Approach to Middle Bronze Age Palaces in Mesopotamia
Kristina B. Donnelly (University of Pennsylvania)
- 11:55am-12:20pm The Chief Dirge Singer's Web of Credit. Mapping Debt Networks in Old Babylonian Sippar
Katrien De Graef (Ghent University)
- 12:20-12:45pm Seal Use and Social Categories among the Clergy of Dūr-Abiešuh
Anne T. Goddeeris (Ghent University)

|                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
|--------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 10:40am-12:45pm(CST) | 10D. Intangible Cultural Heritage: Bridging the Past and the Present II (Waldorf)Chair(s): Yaroub Al Obaidi, Duquesne University; Jessica R. Robkin, University of Central Florida                                                                                                                                                                 |
| 10:40-11:05am            | Cultural Reactivation in the Wake of the Yezidi Genocide: The Sersal ProjectMarc Marin Webb (University of Pennsylvania)                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| 11:05-11:30am            | A Survey of Traditional Tattooing in Iraq: History, Symbols, and Social FunctionsAmmar Al-Taei (State Board of Antiquities and Heritage (SBAH) and TARII), Angham Salim Mohammed (Mustaqbel University), Dhu Al-Fiqar Hatem (State Board of Antiquities and Heritage), Mohammad Qasim Al-Mimar (TARII)                                      |
| 11:30-11:55am            | Festival of Sailors' Songs: Heritage in the Arabian GulfYaroub Al Obaidi (Duquesne University)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| 11:55am-12:20pm          | Development of Traditional Industries in IraqMahmad Al-hilo (Middle Technical University)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| 12:20-12:45pm            | Fading Heritage in Baghdad: The Interlinked Loss of Architecture and Craft TraditionsDhirgham Alobaydi (University of Baghdad- IRAQ), Bashar Alkhafaji (University of Technology - IRAQ)                                                                                                                                                    |
| 10:40am-12:45pm(CST) | 10E. Archaeology of the Near East: Bronze and Iron Ages II (Marquette)Chair(s): J. P. Dessel, University of Tennessee                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| 10:40-11:05am            | Modeling Late Bronze Age Power and Exchange: A Social Network Analysis of Imported Materials in CanaanEmily Hale (Mississippi State University)                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| 11:05-11:30am            | The Plst, the Philistines, and the PelethitesDoug Hartman (University of Texas Austin)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| 11:30-11:55am            | Discovery, Excavation and Documentation of Soil-Cut Shaft Tombs: A Geoarchaeological Insight from Newe Efrayim, IsraelGilad Itach (Israel Antiquities Authority), Nimrod Wieler (Israel Antiquities Authority), Yossi Elisha (Israel Antiquities Authority), Yaniv Agmon (Israel Antiquities Authority)                                     |
| 11:55am-12:20pm          | The Border Between Egypt and Mittani and the Chronology of the Amarna LettersFrancesco Ignazio De Magistris (University of Lausanne)                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| 12:20-12:45pm            | At the Crossroads of the Shephelah: Northern and Coastal Ceramic Influences in Stratum 7 at Tel GezerCharissa Wilson (The Lanier Center for Archaeology, Lipscomb University)                                                                                                                                                               |
| 10:40am-12:45pm(CST) | 10F. What's Up With That?: Museum Objects that Defy Interpretation (Workshop) (Williford A)Chair(s): Carl Walsh, New York University; Ashley Arico, Art Institute of Chicago; Jen Thum, Harvard Art Museums                                                                                                                                        |
| 10:40-10:50am            | The Real Thing: The Curious Case of an Incense Burner in the Menil CollectionLeticia R. Rodriguez (University of Houston)                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| 10:50-11:00am            | An Enigmatic Middle Bronze Age Incised Clay Object from Kurd Qaburstan (Kurdistan Region of Iraq)Tiffany Earley-Spadoni (University of Central Florida)                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| 11:00-11:10am            | What's Up with Votive Reuse?Georgia H. Vance (Johns Hopkins University)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| 11:10-11:20am            | A Possible (but Perhaps Unlikely) Metal Mold from Khirbet et-TannurSarah E. Wenner (American Center of Research)                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| 11:20-11:30am            | Rediscovered but Resistant to Identification...Annie Caubet (Emerita Louvre Museum)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| 11:30-11:40am            | Unmasking a Coffin Face at the Art Institute of ChicagoLuiza Osorio G. Silva (University of California, Irvine), Ashley Arico (Art Institute of Chicago)                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| 11:40-11:50am            | An Unusual Figural Ostrakon from Tell el-AmarnaJacquelyn Williamson (George Mason University), Fabien Balestra (Amarna Project), Delphine Driaux (Amarna Project; Austrian Archaeological Institute - Austrian Academy of Sciences), Anna Stevens (Amarna Project, McDonald Institute for Archaeological Research, University of Cambridge) |

|                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
|---------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 11:50am-12:00pm                 | Snakes on a Plaque: Game, Ritual Device, or None of the Above?Carl R. Walsh (New York University)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| 12:00-12:45pm                   | Discussion                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| 10:40am-12:45pm(CST) | 10G. Ancient Languages and Linguistics I (Williford B)Chair(s): Victoria Almansa-Villatoro, Yale University; Brendan Hainline, The Metropolitan Museum of Art                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| 10:40-11:05am                   | Borrowing Judgements: The Case of Biblical Hebrew וְשִׁטָּהּ and the East vs. West Semitic Development of vØPTTommaso Bacci (The University of Chicago)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| 11:05-11:30am                   | The Shape of Language in Ancient Egypt: Semiotics Beyond “Just Text” in the Book of KemytAurore Motte (University of Liège)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| 11:30-11:55am                   | Contact at the Court: Hittian Cultural Domination but Hittite Linguistic DominationPetra M. Goedegebuure (ISAC, University of Chicago)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| 11:55am-12:20pm                 | "When One Word Means Its Own Opposite: The Enantiosemym of Ancient Egyptian ḥwi and Its Typological Implications"Fernando Gael Papola (L'École pratique des hautes études (EPHE), Paris AOROC)*Virtual                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| 12:20-12:45pm                   | Hittite in Contact: Examining a Tri-Literate Scribal TraditionGeorgia Ramadanovic (University of New Hampshire)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| 10:40am-12:45pm(CST) | 10H. Towards a Working Ancient Economy II (Williford C)Chair(s): Andrew Deloucas, Harvard University; Taha Yurttas, Harvard University; Eric Aupperle, Harvard University                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| 10:40-11:05am                   | Financial Penalties in Old Babylonian Laws and JudgmentsPavla Rosenstein (Yale)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| 11:05-11:30am                   | Collective Action Theory and Debt Remission DecreesEva von Dassow (University of Minnesota)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| 11:30-11:55am                   | Investigating Household and Family in First Millennium BC BabyloniaHeather D. Baker (University of Toronto)*Virtual                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| 11:55am-12:20pm                 | Date Cultivation and Commercial Investment in Late Achaemenid BabyloniaRyan Hart (Harvard University)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| 12:20-12:45pm                   | Engraved Connections: Intaglios, Craft Mobility, and Mediterranean Interaction in Early South IndiaSangeetha Raja (Haifa Center for Mediterranean History (HCMH), Gil Gambash (Haifa Center for Mediterranean History (HCMH), University of Haifa, Israel), David Friesem (Haifa Center for Mediterranean History (HCMH), University of Haifa, Israel), Marxia Gandhi (Tamil Nadu State Department of Archaeology (TNSDA), Chennai)                                                                                                                         |
| 10:40am-12:45pm(CST) | 10I. Archaeology of the Black Sea and the Caucasus (Astoria)Chair(s): Michael Zimmerman, Bridgewater State University; Misha Elashvili, Bridgewater State University                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| 10:40-11:05am                   | Feeding the Frontier: Supplying the Army on the Northeastern Edge of the Empire (1st-3rd c. CE)Paulina Komar (University of Warsaw), Edyta Marzec (University of Warsaw), Maciej Sierakowski (UKSW)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| 11:05-11:30am                   | Highland Horizons: Reassessing Kura-Araxes Settlement and Adaptation at Tsaghkasar-1, ArmeniaJames Fraser (University of Sydney), Sona Hovsepyan (Institute of Archaeology of Armenia)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| 11:30-11:55am                   | New Findings on Major Holocene Environmental Shifts in the Javakheti Highland and Their Influence on Bronze Age Megalithic CultureMikheili Lobjanidze (Ilia State University, Georgia), Levan Navrozashvili (Ilia State University, Georgia), Nino Ustiashvili (Ilia State University, Georgia), Felix Reize (University of Cologne, Germany), Hannes Laermanns (University of Cologne, Germany), Alfred Vespreamanu Stroe (University of Bucharest, Romania), Mikheil Elashvili (Ilia State University, Georgia; Bridgewater State University)*Virtual |

|                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
|----------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 11:55am-12:20pm      | Pastoralism, Mobility, and the Search for Raw Materials in the South Caucasus: Insights from Archaeozoology and Isotopic Analysis in Late Prehistory Adeline Vautrin (Ruhr-Universität Bochum, Bochum, Germany), Irina Gambashidze (Georgian National Museum, Tbilisi, Georgia), Delphine Bosch (Université de Montpellier), Catherine Chauvel (Université de Paris), Giorgi Gogochuri (Georgian National Museum, Tbilisi, Georgia), Gia Chilingarashvili (Georgian National Museum, Tbilisi, Georgia), Svend Hansen (German Archaeological Institute), Marjan Mashkour (Muséum national d'Histoire naturelle), Rémi Berthon (Muséum national d'Histoire naturelle), Thomas Stöllner (Ruhr-Universität Bochum, Bochum, Germany) |
| 12:20-12:45pm        | Preliminary Results from the Kakavadzor Archaeological Project Antonietta Catanzariti (Smithsonian Institution), Shannon Martino (Morton College, Illinois), Terri Tanaka (University of California, Berkeley)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| 2:00-4:05pm(CST) | 11A. Africa in the Ancient World III (Continental A) Chair(s): Brenda J. Baker, Arizona State University; Michele R. Buzon, Purdue University                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| 2:00-2:25pm          | Slag at the Crossroads: Mapping Metallurgy as Evidence of Exchange at Jebel Lahdid Bailey Stephenson (Mississippi State University)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| 2:25-2:50pm          | Coins and Coin Use in Northeast Africa Tasha Vorderstrasse (University of Chicago)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| 2:50-3:15pm          | Across an Askut Gaming Board: Theories of Cultural Transmission and Entanglement Stuart Tyson T. Smith (University of California, Santa Barbara), Anne Dunn-Vaturi (The Metropolitan Museum of Art), Alex de Vogt (Drew University)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| 3:15-3:40pm          | Jewelry from Tombos Cemetery: An Analysis of Burial Goods from Third Cataract Sudan (1450-750 BCE) Melanie Kreutz (Purdue University), Michele Buzon (Purdue University), Stuart Tyson Smith (University of California, Santa Barbara), El Hassan Ahmed Mohamed (National Corporation for Antiquities and Museums)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| 3:40-4:05pm          | The Fourth Cataract and Egyptian Records Bruce B. Williams (ISAC, The University of Chicago)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| 2:00-4:05pm(CST) | 11B. Archaeology of Iran (Continental B) Chair(s): Lara Fabian, University of California, Los Angeles                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| 2:00-2:25pm          | The Fairservis Afghan Survey: Retracing the Search for the Indo-Iranian Borderlands Mitchell Allen (University of California Berkeley)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| 2:25-2:50pm          | Godin Tepe's Place in Time and Space: Reassessing the Chronology, Regional Context, and Administrative Origins of Period VI:1 Rasha Elendari (Independent Archaeologist)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| 2:50-3:15pm          | "Social Space" in the Achaemenid Palace: the "Harem" building at Persepolis Recontextualised Charlotte Howley (UCLA)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| 3:15-3:40pm          | Claiming the Cosmos: Royal Titulature and Imperial Ideology in Early Sasanian Iran from Sāsān to Shāpur I Homayoun Khosheghbal (University of Iowa)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| 3:40-4:05pm          | Antemortem Health Indicators and Burial Status of the Bronze, and Seleuco-Parthian Period Burials, Tepe Hasanlu Sara Soltani (Boston University)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| 2:00-4:05pm(CST) | 11C. Ancient Mesopotamia – A Social History. Methods for Reconstructing Lived Worlds II (Continental C) Chair(s): Steven Garfinkle, Western Washington University; Jana Mynářová, Charles University                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| 2:00-2:25pm          | Household Dossiers in the 2nd Millennium BCE: What Survived, Why, and What Can Be Learned Amanda Podany (California State Polytechnic University, Pomona)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| 2:25-2:50pm          | Identifying Archives through the Network Analysis of Prosopography Nathan Steinmeyer (The University of Notre Dame, Jerusalem)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| 2:50-3:15pm          | Actions Speak Louder Than Names: Economic Behavior as an Identifier in Kassite Administrative Archives Susanne A. Paulus (University of Chicago)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| 3:15-3:40pm          | Nippur's Neighborhood: a Prosopography of Areas TA and TB Andrew Deloucas (Harvard University)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |

|                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
|-------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 3:40-4:05pm       | From Objects to Actors: Reconstructing Non-Royal Religious Networks in Ancient Mesopotamia through Social Network Analysis Christina Tsouparopoulou (UKSW, Warsaw &amp; Durham University), Alexander E. Sollee (Martin Luther University Halle-Wittenberg, Germany)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| 2:00-4:05pm (CST) | 11D. Provenance and Middle Eastern Collections I (Waldorf) Chair(s): Sophia Slotwiner-Nie, Yale Babylonian Collection; Jana Matuszak, University of Chicago                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| 2:00-2:25pm       | An Introduction to the Session: The Significance of Provenance for Middle Eastern Collections Sophia Slotwiner-Nie (Yale Babylonian Collection)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| 2:25-2:50pm       | Cylinder Seals and the Antiquities Trade: Testing the Limits of Provenance in Museum Collections and Online Marketplaces Oya Topcuoğlu (Northwestern University)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| 2:50-3:15pm       | The Wardrobe Staples: About Two Plaster Casts of Unpublished Neo-Assyria Reliefs Found at the Barcelona School of Architecture (Spain) Agnès Garcia-Ventura (Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona), Fernando Albaladejo (UPC-ETSAB), Pedro Azara (UPC-ETSAB)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| 3:15-3:40pm       | Finding Nemo: On the Application of Nemo dat non quod habet to Cultural Property Law and the Case of the Aramaic Incantation Bowls in the Schøyen Collection Erin Braner (University of Chicago)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| 3:40-4:05pm       | Reconstructing Ancient and Modern Contexts: Provenance and the Egypt Exploration Society Sophia Slotwiner-Nie (Yale Babylonian Collection)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| 2:00-4:05pm (CST) | 11E. The Archaeology of the Lands of Alalakh I (Marquette) Chair(s): Murat Akar, Hatay Mustafa Kemal University; Müge Bulu, Ankara University; Tara Ingman, Koç University                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| 2:00-2:25pm       | Building over Legacy: Recent Discoveries and Research Trajectories in the Lands of Alalakh. An Introduction. Murat Akar (Hatay Mustafa Kemal University)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| 2:25-2:50pm       | The First Continuous Paleoclimatic Record from the Amuq Valley: Holocene Drought Variability Ulas Avsar (Middle East Technical University), Zeynep Bektaş (Middle East Technical University), Murat Akar (Hatay Mustafa Kemal University), Fatma Toksoy Köksal (Middle East Technical University), Nurdan Yavuz (General Directorate of Mineral Research and Exploration of Turkey), Evangelia Piskin (Middle East Technical University), Aurelia Hubert-Ferrari (University of Liege), Charlotte Pearson (University of Arizona) *Virtual |
| 2:50-3:15pm       | Climate, Environment and Resource Use at Tell Tayinat in the Third Millennium BCE Lynn Welton (University of Toronto), Doğa Karakaya (Istanbul University), Brita Lorentzen (University of Georgia), Mariah Miller (University of Toronto), Sheldon Harmacy (University of Toronto)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| 3:15-3:40pm       | Cultural Encounters in the Highlands of Alalakh: An Analysis of Ancient Foodways at Toprakhisar Höyük from the Late Third to the Early Second Millennium BC Müge Bulu (Ankara University)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| 3:40-4:05pm       | Cities and Their Hinterlands: Agricultural Production and Livestock Management in the Bronze Age Amuq Valley Evangelia Piskin (Middle East Technical University), Ebru Gizem Ayten (Middle East Technical University), Ebrar Sinmez (Middle East Technical University), Zeineb Grissa (Middle East Technical University)                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| 2:00-4:05pm (CST) | 11F. Teaching with The Ancient Near East Today (Workshop) (Williford A) Chair(s): Elise A. Friedland, George Washington University; Jessica Nitschke, The Ancient Near East Today Editor, ASOR                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| 2:00-2:10pm       | The Past, Present, and Future of ANE Today Jessica L. Nitschke (Stellenbosch University)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| 2:10-2:20pm       | Using the Ancient Near East Today as a Teaching Tool for Undergraduates Rachel S. Hallote (Purchase College SUNY)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| 2:20-2:30pm       | Teaching with ANE Today in Ancient Near East Survey Classes: Sample Assignments Helen M. Dixon (East Carolina University)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| 2:30-2:40pm       | Reading and Writing About the Ancient Near East Today Amy R. Gansell (St. John's University)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |

|                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
|-----------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 2:40-4:05pm                 | Discussion                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| 2:00-4:05pm(CST) | 11G. Ancient Languages and Linguistics II (Williford B) *Chair(s): Victoria Almansa-Villatoro, Yale University; Brendan Hainline, The Metropolitan Museum of Art                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| 2:00-2:25pm                 | Aramaic in Greek Curse Tablets: an OverviewYang Han (University of Chicago)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| 2:25-2:50pm                 | Inscribing Incantations on Bowls: The Materiality of Mesopotamian Magic BowlsEleonora Serra (Freie Universität)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| 2:50-3:15pm                 | The Function of Syllable Division in Coptic Manuscript P. Chester Beatty 2018: The Apocalypse of Elijah, Reading Aids, and Oral Performance in Coptic EgyptSo Mivagawa (The University of Tsukuba)                                                                                                                                                                                |
| 3:15-3:40pm                 | Contemporary Perspectives on Old Babylonian Stelae from Archaeological and Archival ContextsLuke Ruff (Independent Researcher)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| 3:40-4:05pm                 | Syntactic Variation and Narrative Strategies in the Late Neo-Assyrian Royal InscriptionsJoshua Jeffers (University of Pennsylvania)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| 2:00-4:05pm(CST) | 11H. Prehistoric Archaeology I (Williford C)Chair(s): Austin "Chad" Hill, University of Pennsylvania; Blair Heidkamp, University of Texas, Austin                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| 2:00-2:25pm                 | Architectural Ambiguity at Murayghat: Building 1 and the Problem of Domestic, Communal, and Ritual Space in Early Bronze Age IA JordanMaximilian Holmstrom (University of Notre Dame), Susanne Kerner (University of Copenhagen)                                                                                                                                                  |
| 2:25-2:50pm                 | Assessing Time Investments for Hunting Infrastructure: Experiments on Kite Wall Construction with the Kites in Context ProjectBlair Heidkamp (University of Texas at Austin), Yorke M. Rowan (University of Chicago), Austin Chad Hill (University of Pennsylvania)*Virtual                                                                                                   |
| 2:50-3:15pm                 | New OSL Dates and Chronological Perspectives on Desert Kites in JordanYorke M. Rowan (University of Chicago), Austin Chad Hill (University of Pennsylvania), Sahar M. al Khasawneh (Yarmouk University)                                                                                                                                                                           |
| 3:15-3:40pm                 | New Palaeolithic Evidence from the Iraqi Western DesertElla Egberts (AMGC Research Group, Vrije Universiteit Brussel, Belgium), Andreas Nymark (Centre for the Archaeology of Human Origins, University of Southampton, United Kingdom), Philip van Peer (Centre for Archaeological Research of Landscapes, KULeuven, Belgium), Jaafar Jotheri (University of Al-Qadisiyah, Iraq) |
| 2:00-4:30pm(CST) | 11I. Archaeology of Religion in the Levant during the Second and First Millennia BCE II (Astoria) *Chair(s): Alice Mandell, Johns Hopkins University; Jeremy Smoak, University of California, Los Angeles                                                                                                                                                                         |
| 2:00-2:25pm                 | Don't Throw the Baby Out with the Cistern Water: The Tel Azekah Mass Grave ReconsideredKristine S. Garroway (Hebrew Union College), Helen Dixon (East Carolina University), Megan Perry (East Carolina University), Rachel Kalisher (UC San Diego)                                                                                                                                |
| 2:25-2:50pm                 | Priestly Divination: Where and Who?Susan Ackerman (Dartmouth College)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| 2:50-3:15pm                 | The Economics of Pilgrimage in the Iron Age LevantTimothy Hogue (University of Pennsylvania)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| 3:15-3:40pm                 | The Smiting Motif: A Possible Intercultural Visual Symbol of MasculinityErika Roboz (Museum of Fine Arts, Budapest)*Virtual                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |

---

* Presentations in this session/workshop that draw on material from occupied territory and its contiguous waters as defined by customary international law have been reviewed by the Program Committee, in consultation with the presenters, to ensure alignment with ASOR's Policy on Professional Conduct, Section III.E.7. Further documentation can be provided by the Program Committee upon request (pc.chairs@asor.org).

|                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
|----------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 3:40–4:05pm          | Defining Ritual in the Context of Production: A Comparative Study of Iron Age EvidenceVanessa A. Workman (University of Pennsylvania / Penn Museum), Erin Hall (University of California, Los Angeles)*Virtual                                            |
| 4:05–4:30pm          | I Will Make the Place of My Feet Glorious (Isaiah 60:13): Archaeological Manifestations of Deities' Feet at Iron Age Tel Dan and ElsewhereDavid Ilan (Hebrew Union College)                                                                                   |
| 4:25–6:30pm(CST) | 12A. Archaeology and History of Feasting and Foodways (Continental A)Chair(s): Kara Larson, University of Michigan                                                                                                                                                   |
| 4:25–4:50pm          | Now We're Cooking! Neolithic Domestic Cooking vs. Large Scale Feasting in CyprusAndrew McCarthy (University of Edinburgh)                                                                                                                                     |
| 4:50–5:15pm          | Urban Household Foodways at EB III Tell el-Hesi: Zooarchaeological and Isotopic EvidenceKara M. Larson (University of Michigan)                                                                                                                               |
| 5:15–5:40pm          | Subsistence and Sustenance in the MBA Southern LevantSusan Cohen (Montana State University)                                                                                                                                                                   |
| 5:40–6:05pm          | Culinary Communities of Practice? Bread in the New Kingdom Southern Levant (15th to 12th centuries BCE)Jacob C. Damm (College of the Holy Cross, Department of Classics)                                                                                      |
| 6:05–6:30pm          | The Importance of the Ceramic Tumbler Cup in the Drinking Practices at Kastelli-Pediada, Crete, and in Larger Networks of Eastern Mediterranean ExchangeLauren Wilson (Temple University)*Virtual                                                         |
| 4:25–6:30pm(CST) | 12B. Art, Archaeology, and History of Central Asia (Continental B)Chair(s): Harrison Morin, University of Chicago; Mitchell Allen, University of California, Berkeley                                                                                                |
| 4:25–4:50pm          | Gandhāran Art: A Separation from Greekness and BuddhismLouis M. Mainwaring Foster (Bryn Mawr College)                                                                                                                                                         |
| 4:50–5:15pm          | Iterative Remote Sensing in Hyper-arid Landscapes: Relict Irrigation, Agriculture, and Pastoralism in the Southern Kyzylkum (Bukhara Oasis, Uzbekistan)Zachary "Zach" Silvia (Stanford University)                                                            |
| 5:15–5:40pm          | Silk Routes on the Ground: Ways to Central AsiaXin Wu (Fudan University/Bryn Mawr College)                                                                                                                                                                    |
| 5:40–6:05pm          | The Pyrotechnologies of the BMACTeagan Wolter (Encyclopaedia Britannica)                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| 6:05–6:30pm          | A Remote Reassessment of the Cultural Landscape of Northern Afghanistan Post-August 2021Harrison Morin (University of Chicago), Gil J. Stein (University of Chicago), Anthony J. Lauricella (University of Memphis), Andrew M. Wright (University of Chicago) |
| 4:25–6:30pm(CST) | 12C. Ancient Mesopotamia – A Social History. Methods for Reconstructing Lived Worlds III (Continental C)Chair(s): Steven Garfinkle, Western Washington University; Jana Mynářová, Charles University                                                                 |
| 4:25–4:50pm          | Language of Communication as a Social ConstructJana Mynářová (Institute of Ancient Near Eastern Studies, Charles University)                                                                                                                                  |
| 4:50–5:15pm          | The Social Circulation of Institutional Language: Networked Constraints on Linguistic Register in Old Assyrian and Old Babylonian LettersAdam Anderson (UC Berkeley)                                                                                          |
| 5:15–5:40pm          | Accessing Youth Experiences in the 1st Millennium EmpiresShana Zaia (Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam)                                                                                                                                                            |
| 5:40–6:05pm          | Competition Between Sectors in the Neo-Assyrian AdministrationChristopher W. Jones (Union University)                                                                                                                                                         |

- 6:05–6:30pm The Dynamics of Changes in Pottery Circulation and Production in Second Millennium BCE Mesopotamia
Costanza Coppini (Université Paris 1 Pantheon Sorbonne)
 *Virtual
- 4:25–6:30pm (CST) 12D. Provenance and Middle Eastern Collections II (Waldorf)
 Chair(s): Sophia Slotwiner-Nie, Yale Babylonian Collection; Jana Matuszak, University of Chicago
- 4:25–4:50pm Confronting Erasures: The Case of the Antiquities Dealer Djemileh Benny and Cuneiform Collections in the British Museum
Nadia Ait Said-Ghanem (SOAS University of London)
 *Virtual
- 4:50–5:15pm “Unprovenanced” or “Looted:” A Case Study of the First Dynasty of the Sealand
Michael A. Chapin (Independent Researcher)
- 5:15–5:40pm Deconstruction and Display: Revisiting the Northwest Palace of Ashurnasirpal II
Gina Konstantopoulos (University of California Los Angeles)
- 5:40–6:05pm From Provenance to Provenience: Reconstructing Findspots through Archival Research
Jana Matuszak (University of Chicago)
- 6:05–6:30pm Discussion
- 4:25–6:30pm (CST) 12E. The Archaeology of the Lands of Alalakh II (Marquette)
 Chair(s): Murat Akar, Hatay Mustafa Kemal University; Müge Bulu, Ankara University; Tara Ingman, Koç University
- 4:25–4:50pm Aegean Pottery in the Lands of Alalakh: New Perspectives on Mycenaean Imports at Tell Atchana
Alice M. Crowe (Florida State University)
- 4:50–5:15pm The Gemstones of Alalakh
Magda Pieniazek (Institute for Pre- and Protohistory, University of Tübingen)
- 5:15–5:40pm A Preliminary Analysis of a New Corpus of Late Bronze Age Sealings and Seal Impressions from the Recent Excavations at Tell Atchana, Alalakh
Defne Güler Bilgili (Johns Hopkins University)
- 5:40–6:05pm Connecting Excavations and Rethinking Contexts: A New Cuneiform Tablet from the 2025 Excavation Season and Its Woolley-Era Counterparts
Jacob Lauinger (Johns Hopkins University), Zeynep Türker (Johns Hopkins University)
- 6:05–6:30pm Hittite Imperial Administration at Karkemish in the 13th Century BCE: New Results from the Excavations and Epigraphic Studies
Hasan Peker (İstanbul University), Nicolò Marchetti (University of Bologna)
- Discussant
Eric H. Cline (George Washington University)
- 4:25–6:30pm (CST) 12F. Archaeology of the Late Antique and Byzantine Near East (Williford A)
 Chair(s): Mark Schuler, Concordia University
- 4:25–4:50pm The Baptistery in the Byzantine/ Umayyad Pilgrimage Complex of Abila at Quwayliba, Jordan.
Robert W. "Bob" Smith (Mid-Atlantic Christian University)
- 4:50–5:15pm Hippos Cathedral and its Photisteria – Archaeological Evidence for Baptismal Space in Early Byzantine Churches
Michael Eisenberg (The Zinman Institute of Archaeology, University of Haifa), Arleta M. Kowalewska (The Zinman Institute of Archaeology, University of Haifa)
- 5:15–5:40pm The Remains of a House for the Elderly at Hippos of the Decapolis and the Urban Changes Within Its Insula
Arleta M. Kowalewska (The Zinman Institute of Archaeology, University of Haifa), Michael Eisenberg (The Zinman Institute of Archaeology, University of Haifa)
- 5:40–6:05pm Monastic Institutions on the Byzantine Frontier: Economy, Administration, and Society in the Negev
Rachel Bernstein (Independent Researcher)

|                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
|---------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 4:25–6:30pm(CST)     | 12G. Ancient Languages and Linguistics III (Williford B) *Chair(s): Victoria Almansa-Villatoro, Yale University; Brendan Hainline, The Metropolitan Museum of Art                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| 4:25–4:50pm                     | The Temple Script: A Sociolinguistic Study of Paleo-Hebrew in the Hellenistic and Roman PeriodsHarrison Fausey (Columbia International University)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| 4:50–5:15pm                     | Words of Belonging: Lexemes Designating Social Groups in Early EgyptBrendan Hainline (The Metropolitan Museum of Art)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| 5:15–5:40pm                     | The Social Context of the Hebrew Infinitive AbsoluteLarissa St. Clair (University of California, Los Angeles)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| 5:40–6:05pm                     | Voice to the Voiceless: How Muted Participants Contributed to the Making and Telling of Ancient Egyptian Fictional StoriesNikolaos Lazaridis (California State University Sacramento)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| 6:05–6:30pm                     | The Etymology of Friendship and Obligation in Ancient EgyptianVictoria Almansa-Villatoro (Yale University)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| 4:25–6:30pm(CST)     | 12H. Prehistoric Archaeology II (Williford C)Chair(s): Austin “Chad” Hill, University of Pennsylvania; Blair Heidkamp, University of Texas, Austin                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| 4:25–4:50pm                     | Burial Cave from the Late Chalcolithic Period South of Shemen, IsraelVered Eshed (Israel Antiquities Authority)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| 4:50–5:15pm                     | Blades from the Valley: New Insights in the Production of Lithic Sickle Elements from the Amuq Valley TürkiyeSheldon J. Harmacy (University of Toronto)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| 5:15–5:40pm                     | Persistent Memory at the Edge of Ubaid: Material Continuity and Selective Interaction at Early Chalcolithic Kendale Hecala (ca. 5200–4500 BCE), Upper Tigris RegionSakir Can (Kocaeli University)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| 5:40–6:05pm                     | Shifting Occupational Practices at Tell Kurdu (Turkey) during the Sixth-Fifth MillenniaRana Özbal (Koç University), Fokke Gerritsen (Leiden University), Hannah Lau (Hamilton College), Rula Shafiq (Yeditepe University, Istanbul)                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| Times AnnouncedSoon | Institute for the Study of Ancient Cultures (ISAC) Museum ReceptionAfter the sessions end on Saturday night, the Institute for the Study of Ancient Cultures (ISAC) Museum will host a reception for ASOR attendees—two time options are being offered to accommodate as many people as possible. Tickets are complimentary for ASOR attendees, however, space is limited and advanced registration is required. More information and sign-up coming soon. |

---

* Presentations in this session/workshop that draw on material from occupied territory and its contiguous waters as defined by customary international law have been reviewed by the Program Committee, in consultation with the presenters, to ensure alignment with ASOR’s Policy on Professional Conduct, Section III.E.7. Further documentation can be provided by the Program Committee upon request (pc.chairs@asor.org).